[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] BUFFALO, (N. Y.,) Aug. 26.—The delegates to the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic marched to the Iroquois Hotel to the music of bands and the cheering of comrades, visitors and citizens. proseenum arch was draped and fes-tooned in national colors, surmounted by a coat-of-arms tipped with a golden eagle crest. Above the arch flags of all nations formed a brilliant cluster. Guards with crossed bayonets barred the doors to the hall. Only comrades with passwords were admitted to the galleries, and only delegates with cre-dentials were admitted to the main floor. The preliminary session of the encampment was open to a limited number of press representatives. The

Gen. Clarkson, the commander-inchief, took the platform at 9:30 o'clock, and was loudly cheered. Gen. Edgar B. Jewett, the Mayor of Buffalo, was among the next to come on the stage. He was welcomed by Gen. Clarkson, and cheered. Bugler R. E. Rexford rendered "We are Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp-ground." At the last note deafening applause rose through-

Gen. Clarkson then called the encampment to order. As he was speaking, Gov. Frank S. Black was escorted to the stage. The delegates rose and cheered him.

At the close of Gov. Black's address of welcome, Gen. Clarkson introduced Mayor Jewett, who was heartily re-ceived both before and after his address of welcome on behalf of the city of Buffalo. He said in part:
"Honorable commander and comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic:

Buffalo has often been called the Con-Buffalo has often been called the Convention city, and never was the name more appripriate than it is today. Our town is filled with guests, and our ability as hosts is being tested to the uttermost. But let me assure you, my friends from all quarters of this great and mighty nation, that never was a warmer welcome awaiting any body of men who have assembled in this beautiful and queenly city than that which I extend to you today.

"The city of Buffalo was one of the most loyal and patriotic cities in the North during the rebellion. She was quick to respond to the call for troops, and ever ready to assist the President during the entire course of that great struggle. I am proud to say that there never yet has been a blemish upon her record for loyalty and patriotism, and I believe the day will never come when her name will be sullied by such a blemish. Our children are being taught the virtues of good citizenship; they are being brought up to love their country and to revere her flag, and I know that if the Union were ever again in danger and needed stout hearts and willing hands to defend her, our beautiful city of Buffalo would be as quick to respond to the call as she was when the banner of our nation was fired upon at Fort Sumter.

"I wish you all a most pleasant sojourn within our gates, and sincerely hope you will carry away pleasant memories of Buffalo and her people. Again I bid you all a most cordial welcome to our city and extend the freedom thereof to one and all. If the traditional keys of the city were extant, I should certainly present them with my compliments to your commander. But as there are no keys, you must take the will for the deed, and the word of the executive that you are all our most welcome and most honored guests; and during the encampment I place myself and the government of the city entirely at your disposal."

Gen. Clarkson responded to each of the speakers briefly, and then announced that, as it would take an hour to clear the hall and exclude a number who had gained entrance who were not entitled to be present at the secret session, it had been decided to present the reports of the officers at the open session. The reports were then read.

THE COMMANDER'S ADDRESS.

In his report, Gen. Clarkson said:

In his report, Gen. Clarkson said:
"Comrades: Once more we have assembled in annual encampment to render an account of our stewardship, to renew old associations, to legislate for the present, to plan for the future. We meet in fraternity, charity and loyalty, and may all our hearts unite as one in sustaining the great objects of our order. Thank God, we still live to enjoy increased prosperity in the land we helped to God, we still live to enjoy increased prosperity in the land we helped to save.

"I have given the entire year to the work of the order; have traveled somewhat over thirty-five thousand miles; have visited every department that I could reach at their encampments, some at other than their encampments, some at other chan their encampments, some at other than their encampment dates, besides very many posts and reunions, and have been greatly interested everywhere by veterans and all other citizens, and by reason of these-visits have been greatly impressed with the spirit and enthusiasm of the comrades and the very high position the order occupies in the hearts of our people.

"I may be permitted to make special allusion to my visits in the Southern departments, where I made it a point to come in contact, as much as possible, with the men who wore the gray, and their friends. My reception there will ever be a warm spot in my memory. My conception of American manhood and American bravery has been greatly magnified. I met no warmer grasps, no heartier God-speeds in patriotic work than from our once enemies, now friends. I found old Gilory floating as high, her stars as bright, her stripes as broad in the Southand as at home. My sentiment 'One country, one flag, one people, one destiny,' met as hearty a response in Georgia as in Massachusetts, and more than once, after my public receptions there, I repeated to myself, over the work of the G.A.R. in that country, the doxology, 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow.' The Grand Army of the Republic can do no grander work for their country down and the sent proposed in the southern concernates at the following the very down and the remains the flow of the flow NOTABLE OCCASIONS. "It has been my proud privilege dur-ing the year to participate in the last tributes to two of our great military ing the year to participate in the last tributes to two of our great military leaders and comrades. On April 27, in New York, I commanded the G.A. R. division in one of the grandest pageants ever seen in this country, at the dedication of the memorial tomb of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. This great tribute showed the high position occupied by him as a soldier, a statesman, a citizen, and a patriot in the hearts of these people. His tomb, on those beautiful heights by the river, will be the Mecca of future patriots. The number of participating veterans on this occasion was large and most creditable.

"On July 22, at Chicago, I participated in the unveiling of an equesterian statue of our past commander-in-chief and comrade, the ideal volunteer soldier of the war, Gen. John A. Logan, erected by the State of Illinois. Here again, I commanded a very large and most creditable veteran division in the presence of a great outpouring of the patriotic people assembled from all parts of the great West to pay tribute to his memory. It makes one's heart swell with pride to witness the devotion of the people to the living, as would be a supple to the living, as would be a supple to the participate in the parade and exercises, extended by the Committee of Arrangements to the Confederate veterans and accepted by them, quite a large number marching in the parade, under the escort of a post of this order. Their participation shows that the world loves a beau sorder.

under the escort of a post of this order Their participation shows that the world loves a brave soldier. Upon this occasion I invited Gen. John D. Gor don, Commanderlin-Chief of the Condoli, Commanderini-Cher of the Con-federate veterans, to ride with me, that all the world might see that the war was over. It was a source of great regret to us both that other engage-ments prevented his attendance. I also invited him to come to Buffalo and as-sist in the review of the column and speak at our campfires. I kno you would have made him welcome.

inent and enterprising citizens. Incessantly they have toiled day and night. Their heart has been in their work, and I think I may safely say that never were arrangements more complete for the reception of a body of visitors and for giving them plenty of entertainment and a royal good time.

"Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, let me, on behalf of the city of Buffalo and of all the people of our city, assure you of our appreciation of the honor you have conferred upon us by this visit. Let me say that every man who has come here to attend this National Encampment is most heartily welcome. We are proud to do honor to the noble patriots, who in those dark hours of peril, disloyalty and secession, bravely went to the front and offered, dif necessary, to sacrifice their lives to save our nation. In you we behold an organization which deserves our respect and gratitude above that of any which exists beneath our glorious flag. Buffalo honors herself by paying homage to you!

sources cannot but be convinced that if we only knew one another better, if we only realized how great we are in everything that goes to make up a great country, we would indeed be one country and one people, before whom the world would stand in awe.
"The beginning of the end is in sight, the day of smaller things is upon us. We are far past the meridian individually, and as an order the stream dividually, and as an order the stream dividually, and as an order the stream is running rapidly down the hill. Age is running rapidly down the hill. Age and poverty are making great inroads into the ranks. Suspensions are numerous, charters are being surrendered. The hearts are in the right place, but the inevitable is before us. What shall we do? Stand shoulder to shoulder until the last file is closed. Recruit the ranks until every honorable discharged is recorded in the descriptive book, and every suspended comrade is again touching elbow with his fellows. Establish picket posts along the whole line, cheer up the weakening, encourage the thoughtless. Stand by your comrades though all the world assail.

your comrades though all the world assail.

"Owing to the steady decrease in the membership and the very small burden imposed by the national per capita of 2½ cents. I believe that the best interests of the order would be subserved by an increase of one-half a cent in the per capita, making it 3 cents per annum.

"During 1898 there were cared for in the national homes, 27,333 veterans, besides many more in State homes. Much satisfaction is afforded by the thought that the last days of many thousands of the old veterans have been, are being, and will continue to be, made comfortable and comparatively happy and free from the trials and struggles of the outside world, with which they are by age and infirmity unable to contend. The good thus accomplished by a magnanimous people is beyond compare.

MEMORIAL DAY.

MEMORIAL DAY. "There is a deep meaning to Memo-rial day. It means not only a tribute and an honor to the dead, but it means a strong and lasting lesson in patriotism to the living. sacredly attended to in every department.

"I am not one of those who believe that a day established thirty years ago, by our beloved Commander-in-Chief. Logan, and since made a holy day and a holiday by legal enactment in the majority of the States, should be changed simply because a lot of hood-lums and thoughtless men and women desecrate it by games and races. A large majority of our people are observers of the Sabbath day and they do not consider parades and public demonstrations seemly on that day, and their wishes should be respected, for we look to them rather than to the thoughtless for the moral support we need. If games and races cannot be suppressed on such sacred days by moral suasion and the effect of the participation in its sacred work by vast numbers of our best citizens, then no change of day could affect such as numbers of our best citizens, then no change of day could effect such re-

The Grand Army of the Republic believes in military instruction in the public schools, because it is good for the boys mentally, morally, physically, and above all patriotically. I have been inspired in many of my visits to the public schools and colleges in various localities during the year, by the evolutions of the companies of boy soldiers, their marching in carrying the close, to be saluted by the schools, and similar exhibitions in which they evidently take so great pride. It is my hope that this department of work may be kept in good hands.

PENSIONS.

PENSIONS. "The Committee on Pensions has given much attention to this branch of the work, until quite lately with but little effect. We shall need their kindly services more and more as age and infirmity creep upon us Every post of the order should have its Woman's Relief Corps Auxiliary.

"I am more than ever impressed with the importance of organization among the Sons of Veterans, of encouraging them to take a high stand on the side of good order, good morals and good government. I believe it would be encouragement to these young men to invite them to hold their annual gathering at the same time and place as we hold out encampment."

After thanking the vice-commander and his official and personal staff, who had splendidly sustained him in his work, and the comrades who had been so uniformly kind, indulgent and courteous, he concluded thus:

"Let us keep the old flag to the fore. Let her every gentle wave be to us an inspiration for greater devotion to our own and our country's best interests, and every star a beacon light leading us on to higher and greater ambition."

SOUTHERN FEDERALS.

Charles W. Buckley, Junior Vice-Commander-in-Chief, said in his re-port: "The Federal soldiers residing in the southern department of the Grand Army of the Republic profoundly appreciate the generous and liberal spirit which has pervaded the annual session of the national encampments for several years past, and which has resulted in the election of a comrade from one of these departments as a general officer of our order. This action is the more gratifying because it is known that our number is small as compared with the great departments of the loyal States of the North. The Union of our fathers remains stronger than ever and those who fought to destroy it would sooner cast their lot and that of their children in with it than with any other government on the face of the globe. Time has softened our griefs, healed our sorrows and obliterated sectionalism. We are one people in spirit and in fact." the southern department of the Grand DEATH AND DISEASE.

I believe it will not be long until every case properly made up will be reached and receive attention.

"No subject in which the Grand Army is interested is more important than that the truth of history should be taught to our children. It is certainly not the object of the Grand Army of the Republic to keep open the wounds of the war, but of this we are determined, that one side in that great struggle was right and the other side was wrong—and we are not the wrong side, and we do not intend that our children shall be taught that we were.

SEATTLE (Wash..) Aug. 26.—[Special Dispatch to The Times from the P. I. Alaskan News Syndicate.] The schooner Fred E. Sanders. until lately under charter by the North American Transportation and Trading Company, arrived at Port Townsend this morning arrived at Port Townsend this morning direct from St. Michael's, having on board several lucky men, considerable gold and news from up the river. At Port Townsend the passengers left the schooner and proceeded to this city, where most of them are tonight. Among those whose exploits in fortune-seeking are worth chronicling are: A. R. Bingham and wife of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harry Ash and wife, formerly of this city, and J. S. Dinsmore and James McNamee, the latter men registering themselves as from Klondyke, N. W. T. swung his feet as his dust was being converted into bricks. Mr. McNamee stated calmly that in ten weeks he had cleaned up $140,000 worth of gold. Half of this went to the men who were working for him and the rest is his. He has invested a large part of his season's earnings in claims that he expects will yield largely. McNamee said that he is out for the winter and to purchase supplies with which he will start North again in March. Dinsmore is a young fellow who is richer by $15,000 than he was a few Bingham, who is en route to Pittsburgh, brought as expense money for himself and wife for the next few months a bag of gold dust weighing thirty-two pounds. He is reported to have $130,000 in sight in his claims on Bonanza Creek.

Much of his earn-ings are invested in claims in all of the best districts.

The trip down from Dawson to St. Michaels was made in nine days on the steamer Bella, and from St. Michaels to Port Townsend in thirty days. Besides his piano, Ash has the only safe up the river. He has had hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of gold in it at a time, with as many as eighty men asleep on the floor of his dancehouse at one time, each with from $500 to $5000 that could not be packed in the safe. The quality that runs riot is, according to Ash, honesty. There is no need of guns to guard gold. Ash looks for a great deal of the yellow metal to come out in the spring, but expects the Portland to come down light, owing to the in mining properties.

Among her pas-sengers were Joseph Lowe, Mayor of his views on the strike Scheme for sengers were Joseph Lowe, Mayor of Circle City; Harry Ash, well-known among sporting men on the Pacific Coast; John S. Dinsmore, a well-known merchant of Eureka. Cal: Charles Vest of Portland, Or., and James McNamee of Juneau. Only three have been engaged in mining, but all are much pleased with the prospect and intend to return in the spring. James McNamee of Juneau, who is on his way to Bartlett Springs, Cal, probably made the luckiest strike among them. He took from his fourteen claims $137,000, but reinvested the most of it. Each brings a small quantity of gold dust, reaching perhaps $15,000.

because the holders of rich claims are desirous of getting out the gold as fast as possible."

Ash intends to winter here. He advises all people to stay out this winter, unless they already have mines. He has interests in eight properties, and says that the Bunker district is one of the richest. The Dominion Creek and Victoria Gulch districts are also nearly or quite as rich as the Eldorado and Bononza. Mr. Ash predicts that at least $3,000,000 will come out in the spring at the first clean-up. The Yukoners are of the opinion that the value of gold coming on the Portland will be $750,000. They explain that while the product of the Yukon-basin has been large, a great deal of the dust has been reinvested and is held for development work on the properties. There has been lively speculation among the miners, many of whom have not stopped to estimate the value of their holdings. Ash has six claims, and like his associates in the Klondyke, has reinvested all of his gold except enough to live on comfortably during the year.

Skiff Mitchell, Eureka, Cal., worth $1,000,000 if he is worth a cent; James McNamee, Juneau, one-half interest in eighteen different claims on Bonanza and El Dorado creeks, each of which is worth from $25,000 to $50,000; Charles Lamb, Los Angeles, partner McNamee in a number of claims, will be worth at least $250,000; Humboldt, Gates, Eureka, Cal., worth $100,000, being interested in one and one-half claims on Bonanza and and one on El Dorado creek; Frank Dinsmore, Maine, blacksmith, partner of Skiff Mitchell in claim No. 26 on Bonanza Creek above Discovery.

CALIFORNIANS IN LUCK. CALIFORNIANS IN LUCK.

SEATTLE, (Wash.) Aug. 26.—[Speclal Dispatch.] J. S. Dinsmore of Eureka, Cal., who arrived today, gives interesting details of the fortunes of the Californians in Klondyke. He says big strikes have been made on Menook Creek in the United States territory, 300 miles northwest of Circle
City, and on Hunter Creek, a tributary of the Klondyke River. James Langford is the only man who has struck bedrock on Menook Creek, and he took out 125 ounces, two men working, in a week. The top dirt along Hunker Creek is as rich as the average dirt on Klondyke, yielding 75 cents to the pan. The Klondyke is essentially winter diggings, and little work has been done during the summer, especially on account of the scarcity of water. Dinsmore said:

"California people are doing well in the mines. For instance, there is Charlle Lamb of Los Angeles. He got in with Jim MoNamee, who is one of the richest men in Klondyke. McNamee is building a big hotel at Dawson, and I guess Lamb will run it for him. Last spring Lamb went down to California and martled. He returned, and was informed by McNamee that there was $37,000 for him in the cabin. McNamee had been in Alaska for many years, and in Yukon four years, but never struck it until last winter. He has half an interest SEATTLE, (Wash.,) Aug. 26.—[Specal Dispatch.] J. S. Diasmore of Eu-

Alaska for many years, and in Yukon four years, but never struck it until last winter. He has half an interest in eighteen of the richest claims on El Dorado, Bonanza and Hunker Creeks. You can't really figure how much he is worth. On Hunker Creek they have not even struck bedrock.
McNamee is on his way to Bartlett Springs, Cal., to rest for the winter.

The wealthlest man in Klondyke, so far as I know, is Skiff Mitchell of Eureka, Cal. He used to be a millman in Eureka, but eleven years ago he went to Alaska. He never struck anywent to Alaska. He never struck any-thing until last winter. He made the biggest clean-up of the season, $112,-000. He has twenty-eight men working for him now, and his brother Tom has arrived to help look after things, Mitchell was at Circle City when the rush started and he went with the tide, getting in on El Dorado and Bonanza creeks. In eleven years he has only made one trip out. That was five made one trip out. That was five years ago, and he had only $2,600 then. The Portland may have $700,000. When we left St. Michael's ther were about thirty people waiting for the Portland. Some of them had money and some did not. Food will be awfully short, but I don't anticipate a famine, because people will divide. There are six river steamers, but they expected to make only one more trip after we came down.

"You see there is a stack of provisions at St. Michaels, but the trouble is to get them up to Dawson. Some of the provisions have been at St. Michael's a year. There will be ten times as many people to provide for as before, but the stuff to do it with is not there. Men can live for $3 a day buying at Dawson City. If they have their own food, living don't cost much."

THE CITY OF TOPEKA. SEATTLE. (Wash.,) Aug. 26.—The steamer City of Topeka arrived from the north this morning bringing excurthe north this morning bringing excursionists and about thirty-five men from Skaguay who come down because they were afraid they could not get over the pass this winter. This is the largest number of men to yet come back, and that the men who came aver that there will be many more in the next few weeks. No change on the condition of the trail is reported, and no Yukon miners direct from the mines came out on this steamer.

There are now between four and five thousand persons camped along the trail between Salt Water and up five or six miles. They will remain there eating up their supplies until spring, or until they make up their minds to either go over to Dyea or return to Juneau or the States. Many have already sold out and abandoned the trip altogether, some gladly taking 10 per cent. of the original cost of their outfits and leaving that part of the country for milder fields.

and a comparatively mild winter is expected.

At Juneau a boat is arriving almost every day from the Sound, bringing from one hundred and fifty to a thousand passengers each. The moment a vessel is seen down near Taku, word is passed around, and a large proportion of the inhabitants flock to the wharves to greet the new arrivals. The Islander arrived from Victoria with nearly two thousand passengers on August 19, and the Utopia from Seattle the same day with a like number.

Brady to various places in Southeastern Alaska, bringing him back here, and will doubtless take him to Dyea, afterward going back to Sitka. The Governor is thoroughly investigating many important matters relating to the welfare of Alaska.

New customs officials are out making "records," the scene of their operations at present being at Dyea. There a schooner was captured loaded with some 300 gallons of Canadian whisky, which was confiscated. oat Willamette. As the country around Dyea is taken as the country around Dyea is taken up to such great distances in each direction, it is more than likely that many who are now on the road will proceed on to Circle City and other places, and relocate abandoned claims that have been given up for other dig-places, and relocate abandoned claims that have been given up for other diggings.

This will all have a tendency to depopulate the American side. American goods can pass through Canadian soil in bond and no duties will have to be pald and a royalty on the gross production of the mines will be saved to the miner. These claims for royalty and customs duties by the Canadians still continue to be vexed questions, and it would seem that some time must elapse before they can be settled so as to have matters run smoothly. If that government intends, to take into its jurisdiction every other claim or location and demand 20 per cent. royalty on all gold found, and also collect 25 per cent. duty on all outfits and supplies, it surely does not offer much inducement to the average prospector, who will probably push onward again until he reaches American soil, where he will not be so hampered.

The boat leaving Dawson about the last of July took fully two tons of gold dust, and it is calculated that next year's output will greatly exceed that of 18%. On the Yukon, dust is valued at $17 an ounce. Stewart and Indian River claims pan out $10 to $15 a day, so that if they do not make a better showing, wages must necessarily come down.

Two of the party will remain in charge of the store, while the others will prospect on the creek and its surroundings for gold. They have a complete outfit, and will bake their bread and cook their meals just as the pioneers did in early days. From Stockton which they will reach early in the morning, they will proceed by way of Sacramento and Redding.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—[Special Correspondence.] Secretary Doyle of the Civil Service Commission told a reporter for The Times some interesting things about the civil service of Peru yesterday. He said that there an official day's work consisted of nine hours at some offices and six at others. Among the first are certain dependencies of the Ministry of Finance. Th Ministry of Foreign Affairs is com-prised in the second class. At the nine-hour offices the hours are from 8 to 11 a. m. and 12 m. to 6 p. m. At the six-hour offices the hours are from to 11 a. m. and 12 m. to 6 p. m. At the six-hour offices the hours are from 12 m. to 6 p. m. During these hours, no interval of rest is allowed. Salaries are paid for all days in the year, whether work or holidays. In case of illness from three to four months' leave with pay may be conceded, in other cases a longer term—without salary; six months within the limits of the republic; one year in other American countries, and two years in Europe or other places beyond the seas. No vacations are given to government employes. Only the functionaries of the judicial power have two months' holiday, which begins on the 15th of January of each year and ends on the 17th of March. Salaries are paid monthly, except those of diplomatic employes, who are paid annually in advance in case of legations in the United States and Europe, and semi-annually in case of other legations.

In general in order to enter the government service it is necessary to be a citizen in the exercise of his rights. The figures are subject only to such slight correction as may change the total thirty or forty feet either way. Blias was at one time a great volcano. There is not the slightest indication of volcanic action anywhere. A new glacier was discovered by the explorers from the eminence of Mount St. Elias between the Augusta Mountains and Great Logan. It takes its course apparently to the sea, and was named by the Prince "Colombo."

The route was absolutely unknown. Advancing up these glaciers and moraines took thirty-nine days, or until July 4, on which the Prince declared for the entire party a general holiday. At Pinnacle Pass was found the first evidence of Russell's expedition of 1891 in the shape of a tent bottom and a single rusty fork. Finally the foot of the divide connecting Mount St. Elias and Newton was reached with a supply of provisions to last twelve days. The elevation was 8000 feet. The Americans in the party raised the Stars and Stripes over the camp in the great hills, and Prince Luigi and his party cheered again and again in honor of the flag.

At 1 o'clock on the morning of July 31, they commenced the ascent of the great mountain. For eleven hours the upward climb was made and exactly five minutes before 12 o'clock the summit of St. Elias was beneath the feet of the explorers.

When they reached the topmost peak there was neither wind nor fog, and the thermometer was only 20 deg, below freezing. The Prince planted the Italian and American flags. The Prince does not consider the ascent difficult except for the last few hundred feet, which is a solid mass of ice.

COLUSA, Aug. 26.—This town is in a state of great excitement tonight over the announcement that the attempt inaugurated last night to lynch Pedro Vinaly is to be renewed before dawn. Ever since Vinaly attempted to murder the girl last Tuseday, threats of lynching have been heard on every street corner. Nothing but the precarious condition of Vinaly, who has

This evening the Sheriff was informed that forty citizens armed with rifles and pistols, would beslege-the jail and he wired to Maj.-Gen. James, commanding the National Guard, asking that the militia companies at Colusa and Marysville be sent to his assistancea. The Sheriff has had a force of deputies armed with shotguns on guard at the jail day and night since Tuesday, but he feared his defense force would be inadequate to repel the expected attack. Gen. James, by telegraph, ordered out the Colusa company, and as he was informed that several members of the Colusa company were related to Miss Perrier and so might possibly sympathize with the lynchers. he also ordered out the members of Co. D, of Marysville.

By midnight the Sheriff expects to have the jail surrounded by a force of national guardsmen and deputies sufficiently strong to resist any attempt which may be made to wrest the prisoner from his custody.

IRY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE. GRASS VALLEY, Aug. 26 .- The lice of this city are busily engaged try ing to unravel a case of mysterious as sault which took place last night near the Crown Point mine, the victim be-ing Mrs. Lizzie Tyrrell, who lives with her husband and mother near the mine. She went for a stroll last night, ac-companied by her three dogs, and when about to sit down was attacked when about to sit down was attacked from behind and rendered unconscious. When she came to she found herself lying across the narrow-gauge track, fully 150 feet away from the point of attack, and the express was but a short distance away. She next found herself at home, but how she got there she does not know. Her mother found her in her room, wet from head to foot, and badly bruised about the head and face. The case is a complete mystery.

Acting Gov. Jeter refused to commute Hill's sentence because the latter had had a fair trial, and Jeter did not think it a case where executive clemency could be exercised. Most of the appeals for clemency were more based on sentiment and sympathy than on facts. The papers in the Allender murder case were given to Jeter, but he is undecided at present whether or not to examine into it. He has signed a requisition for the contract for the affiliated college buildings.

OAKLAND, Aug. 26.—The funeral services over the remains of Rev. Benjamin Akerly were held today in the uncompleted St. John's Church. The new buidling has nothing but the walls up, the roof is open and the interior is unfinished, but it was decided that the funeral would be most appropriate from the church that he had founded forty years. There was very large attendance of Episcopal clergy and other friends of the deceased. Rev. J. Brewer of San Mateo conducted the obsequies.

Public memorial services will be held in the near future.

At a meeting of the patent law section an address was delivered by Edmund W. Elmore of New York on patent law. Frank F. Reed of Chicago read a paper on "Trade Censorship by Equity" and he was followed by J. M. Raymond of Chicago, who advocated the establishment of a patent bar by act of Congress. He proposed the appointment of a commission of five nembers to examine applicants for admission to practice in the Patent Office. The discussion that followed intimated that the members thought the suggestion impracticable. Francis Folbes of New York read a paper, in which he reiterated the listory of the movement of protection in industrial property. The papers of Messrs. MBMORIAL DAY STATISTICS.

Chaplain-in-Chief Mark B. Taylor reported that he had heard from 5211 of the 7718 posts and reported the following figures: Posts attending Memorial day services, 5211; comrades in line, 201,926; Women's Relief Corps participating, 2393; members participating, 2393; members participating, 2393; members participating, 2393; members participating, 2393; number of veterans, 903; 50ns of Veterans, 903; 50n; 50ns of Veterans, 70,507; other organizations participating, 70,507; other organizations and flower or flag to a soldier's or sailor's tomb. It was becoming more evident to all that the efficiency of the Woman's Relief Corps had never been adequately measured nor sufficiently appreciated. Department chaplains were generous in their praise of the valuable services cheerfully rendered by the Sons of Veterans. Their presence, as young men, with the posts, is a silent but powerful protest against the desecration of Memorial day by multitudes of men of their own age. Upon the sports and pleasures indulged in on that day by millions of the young men of the nation, they resolutely turn their backs and are found marching in line with their fathers and under their fathers' flag. Their aims are high, their souls are throbbing with inetiligence and intense patriotism, and they are consecrated to the interests 50 dear to our hearts. As our legitimate successors, they may be MEMORIAL DAY STATISTICS. As our legitimate successors, they may be safely trusted to carry for-ward our work when our labors shall have ended. The Chaplain added: "While it is deplorable that multitudes of our people seem totally in-different to the nature of Memorial day and the sacredness of its claim upon them—as if the day had meaning for only those who participated in the war of the rebellion—it is indeed gratifying to observe the growing es-teem in which our Grand Army Sab-bath is held by the intelligent, thoughtbath is held by the intelligent, thought-ful, and appreciative people of the country at large. The sympathy ex-hibited with the spirit and purpose of Memorial day as manifested by fra-ternal, secular and social organization within the departments, is inspiring— it is beautiful, it is patriotic. Hun-dreds of orders, not including the Wo-dreds of orders, not including the Woit is beautiful, it is patriotic. Hundreds of orders, not including the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans, such as lodges of Masonic and Odd Fellows fraternity, State militia, etc., honored the day by public participation. It is especially encouraging on note the growing interest manifested by the teachers and pupils of the public schools in all that pertains to the services which commemorate patriotic devotion, which mark the lives of those whose graves we strew with flowers.

"The department chaplains of Georgia and South Carolina have reported increased interest and good-will on the part of citizens of that section, and also stated that the day was more generally observed than ever before."

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT. Adjt.-Gen. Charles F. Burmester's report contained the following figures:

The total membership of the order in good standing June 30, 1896, was 7302 posts, with 340,610 members; on December 31, 1896, 7276 posts, with 327,412 members; on June 30, 1897, 7106 posts, with 319,456 members. The gain by muster in was 10,534; by transfer, 4381; by reinstatement, 11,207; from delinquent report, 6807; total, 32,929. The losses were: By deaths, 7515; hon-orable discharge, 1257; transfer, 4642; suspension, 30,771; dishonorable discharge, 411; by delinquent reports, 8981; by surrender of charter, 606; to-tal, 54,186. Including the members remaining suspended June 30, 1897, (43,-960), the total borne on the rolls was

It will be seen from the above that a new element of loss has introduced itself, which might be said to mark the "beginning of the end." The "loss by surrender of charter." One by one the "boys" have dropped away, joined the "posts" on the other shore, until there are not enough left to keep up the organization and the charter is surrendered, and the remaining few affiliate with another post in the neighborhood, or remain afloat with a transfer card.
"It appears to me," said the adjutant-general, "that right here is where good work can be accomplished with the system of 'outposts' provided by the last national encampment to keep these 'orphan' members within the organization." It will be seen from the above that

THE FUNDS. THE FUNDS.

The report of Quartermaster-General A. J. Burbank showed receipts of $16,-859, of which $8106 came from the percapita tax; and expenses of $19,722. The balance on hand being $7711, the credits to the different funds being as follows: General fund, $162; Grant Monument fund, $5733; Sherman Monument fund, $221; Southern Memorial fund, $1593. The assets amount to $9289, and there are $16,000 in United States bonds.

INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S REPORT. The report of Inspector-General Charles A. Suydam contained the following:

Posts having a relief fund, 1642; aggregate of funds, $516,021. Expenditures by posts for relief, $182,263; total in hands of post quartermasters, $669,758; value of other post property, $1,976,526; posts with Woman's Relief Corps attached, 2824; posts with Sons of Veterans attached, 1389. As a rule the reports received were of a satisfactory character, showing that the order generally is in good condition. PROPOSED AMENDMENTE.

Judge-Advocate-General Albert Clark ecommended the following amendment recommended the following amendment to the rules:

"No person shal be eligible to membership who has at any time borne arms against the United States, except such as belonged to the Southern militia at the outbreak of the war, but never took the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States, and afterward rendered faithful service as Union soldiers; and except, also, those who, living the South, entered the Confederate service under duress, but escaped therefrom as soon as possible and enlisted in the Union army, and received therefrom an honorable discharge.

"I think," he said, "the time has come when such an amendment can be adopted with entire safety and when it will be an honor to our patriotic association to reward by admission to it, those men who espoused the Union cause under greater difficulties than those which environed us and whose fealty was never questioned from the moment they donned the blue."

He also recommended the adoption of the following:

To these objections you may reply that the expense involved is but a trifle compared to the good to be obtained. We might cut off or reduce some of the ornamental elements to create a patriotic spirit in the rising generation and prepare them to perform their public duty in the deeds, and not merely in words. TWO HARD-FOUGHT BATTLES.

BUFFALO (N. Y.,) Aug. 26.—Cincinnati's triumph is securing the national encampment for 1898 and Pennsylvania's victory in winning the Commander-in-chlef of the Grand Army were the features of the encampment. Both battles were hard-fought. The struggle was precipitated immediately after the executive session was called to order. The election of the next place of meeting was first taken up and the rival cities were given a hearing. The city committee of Cincinnati was admitted and Mr. Ingalls, president of the Big Four Raliroad, presented the claims and attractions of the city in a happy speech.

Delegate Woodruff of California presented the claims of San Francisco.

On the first ballot Cincinnati received 526 votes, and San Francisco 217. The vote had not been annonuced when Mr. Woodruff withdrew San Francisco, and asked that the selection of Cincinnati be made unanimous. Following the selection of. Cincinnati, Archbishop Ireland was called to the stand, and made a glowing speech. He was followed by Gen. Lew Wallace, who made a short address.

The report of the Committee on Instruction followed this address. It criticised the books on history read in the schools in the South as inaccurate and suggested some change.

Nomination for Commander-in-chief were then declared in order, and Isaac F. Mack of Sandusky, O., J. P. S. Gobin of Lebanon, Pa., George H. Innes of Boston and John G. Linehan of New Hampshire were presented. Later Mr. Innes withdrew. The first ballot resulted: Mack, 252; Linehan, 181; Gobin, 296—no choice.

The vote on the second ballot was never announced officially, but as cast it stood: Gobin, 358; Mack, 249; Linehan, 123. Before the result could be announced by the tellers, the ten Missouri votes that had been cast for Mack were ordered changed to Gobin, who had received the other twelve of the twenty-two votes belonging to the State. This gave Gobin 368 votes, and enough to elect. The Illinois and other TWO HARD-FOUGHT BATTLES.

THE NAVAL VETERANS.

BUFFALO, Aug. 26.—The Naval Veterans completed their list of officers for the ensuing year as follows: Rear Adimral, D. F. Kelley of Philadelphia; Commodore, J. D. S. Fass, Minneapolis; Captain, W. F. Van Hanlon, Newark, N. J.; Commander, A. B. Neal, Buffalo; Lieutenant-Commander, W. A. Paul, Boston; Senior Lieutenant, E. T. Lincoln, Chicago; Junior Lieutenant, Thomas E. Fifteenth Annual Convention-Re ports of National Officers.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

The fifteenth national convention of the W.RC. convened in Music Hall with fully two thousand women presenit. The president, Mrs. Agnes Hitt of Indianapolis, was in the chair. After an address of welcome, Mrs. Hitt delivered her annual report. It set forth that, while the order had held its own for the last two years, it had not increased as it should. There were many reasons for this, one being the financial depression throughout the country. With the view of increasing the membership she recommended the appointment of a national organizer to organize corps in States where there are no departments and to assist departments when called upon. For a number of years, resolutions had come to the national convention asking that the comrades of the Grand Army be admitted to membership. Considering that they owed their existence to the Grand Army and that the Sons of Veterans and all other allied societies admitted them to membership, it seemed only right that the Woman's Relief Corps should extend to them the welcoming hand.

In carrying out the great principle of the order, flags had been placed on schoolhouses, and patriotic primers and charts put in the schools; but in their zeal in accomplishing this they had forgotten that there was nothing in their ritualistic work indicating their allegiance to the country's flag. She recommended a change in the ritual acknowledging this allegiance.

After referring to the trouble in the order at Washington, D. C., she recommended that the Department of the Potomac be remanded to the Detached Corps. She also recommended that he national headquarters through the president, with the advice of counsel.

It was with great satisfaction that she said all the obligations due the national organization from the departments and Detached Corps had been met. For the first time the Woman's Relief Corps was neither debtor nor creditor. Commander in-Chief Clarkson of the G.A.R., had given the corps loyal support, and indorsed its work, and the department commanders of the G.A.R. were deserving of thanks for their kind cooperation.

SECRETARYS REPORT. The president, Mrs. Agnes Hitt of Indianapolis, was in the chair. After an address of welcome, Mrs. Hitt de-

SECRETARY'S REPORT. The annual report of Ida S. McBride, national secretary, showed that there are now thirty-five departments and are now thirty-five departments and fifty-five detached corps, with a total membership in good standing of 111,-633, though there are others in good standing. The amount in the general fund June 30, 1897, was $104,401, and in the relief fund $54,967. The apparent loss in both these funds was due to an effort made in several departments to correct errors that had crept into reports, by reason of which incorrect figures had been carried from one quarter to another. The followirg table shows the number of members and corps in good standing in the different States:

among the members of the local committee.

To the President, at first, it was a trifle annoying, but a few minutes after the episode he was having a hearty laugh over it, and excusing the official who refused him entrance by saying that the man was "perfectly right to obey orders, no matter who demanded admittance." The reason for the refusal was that the sentry had been ordered to admit no carriages to the camp.

Later the President visited Cayuga Island, the site of the Pan-American Exposition, and with a mallet on which his name was inscribed, drove a stake in the grass plot in the center of the island. Returning from the island, the President lunched with Frank Baird, and then, with Mrs. McKinley, Gen. and Mrs. Alger, Miss Alger and Fred Alger, boarded Senator Hanna's yacht for Cleveland.

COAL STRIKE SITUATION.

GOMPERS VOLUNTEERS HIS VIEW OF THE MATTER.

Cent. of West Virginia Mines Closed Down Completely - Ex-

TRY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.1 WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.-President Sompers of the American Federation of Labor gave his view of the present coal-strike situation to the Associated Press today as follows:

"The situation, as I gather it from the reports of our organizers, indi-cates that between 60 and 65 per cent. of the mines in West Virginia are now closed down completely. A letter I have just received from Cooper and I have just received from Cooper and Pocahontas district is brimming with confidence and says that work in that section has been reduced one-half in the last fortnight and predicts a general collapse there very soon. So long as the West Virginia miners continued there was, of course, little hopes of absolute victory for the miners because West Virginia could supply the urgent needs of the market. But with the suspension in West Virginia becoming general if the miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana keep their ranks unbroken, as I am confident they will, the strike must result in absolute victory for the men. Before September 15 the lake trade must be supplied. The situation becomes daily more acute and while I hesitate to fix a day, I believe that the strike will be terminated by the end of September, and that the settlement will be in favor of the strikers."

When Mr. Gompers's attention was called to the great destitution and suffering among the strikers, he said that the operators had taught the miners how to suffer. They had been drilled in hardship by the operators. They would continue to endure their trials a little longer, in the hope of relieving their situation permanently in the future.

SHAMED BY WOMEN. SHAMED BY WOMEN.

PITTSBURGH, Aug; 26.—The wives and daughters of the striking miners at the Oak Hill mines on Turtle Creek took a prominent part in today's demonstration against the working miners. Early this morning a dozen or more women gathered at the camp, and with flags and hanners marched along the women gathered at the camp, and whin flags and banners marched along the roads leading to the upple. On their way they met a number of miners from the pit and greeted them with yells and jeers. They derided the miners who were working and ridiculed them in a manner which caused many contemt to hang their heads in shame. The women say they will make a doubtration every day hereafter. Readville Races.

The Czar Actually Said "Allied Na--tions" to Faure.

[RY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 26.—[By Atlantic Cable.] At a luncheon given today in honor of the Czar. on board the French eruiser Potuau, the Czar, in proposing a toast to the French President, said: "Your stay among us creates a fresh bond between our two friendly and allied nations, which are equally resolved to contribute with all their power to the maintenance of peace in the world in the spirit of right and equity."

The Czar's mention of the "allied nations" is the first occasion upon which an alliance between Russia and France has been officially mentioned.

PARIS, Aug. 27.-All the daily papers have editorials commenting on the importance of the announced Franco-Russian alliance. I the announced Franco-Russian alliance. It is the general belief that the alliance is the outcome of prolonged conferences between Count Muravieff, Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, and M. Hanotaux. Great importance is attached to the statement that M. Hanotaux will return via Warsaw to Vienna, in order to interview Count Goluchowski, Austrian Minister for Foreign Affairs. It is also stated, but not yet confirmed, that President Faure will stop at Copenhagen on his way home, charged by the Czar with a mission for the King of Denmark or the Dowager Czarina.

CHINESE GARDENERS ROBBED. Two Masked Men Secure $300 Nea

Two Chinese who conduct a large vegetable garden near Eagle Rock, about fourteen miles from this city, robbed Wednesday night at about 8 o'clock, the thieves securing $300, a revolver and such other valuables as were lying about the cabin. The robbery was committed by two men, who the Sheriff believes, went from this city. Under Sheriff Clements and Deputy Woodward, who visited the scene of the robbery yes-terday, say the deed was committed by men who were familiar with the business, as it was found that they accomplished their work in a decidedly expert manner.

by men who were familiar with the business, as it was found that they accomplished their work in a decidedity expert manner.

Shortly before the robbery a man residing in the neighborhood saw two men alight from an electric car and start out in the direction of the Chinese cabin. He thought nothing of the matter, and did not endeavor to get close enough to look at their faces. One is described as a man of ordinary height and the other considerably shorter.

When visited by the officer yesterday the Chinese were so excited that it was almost impossible for them to relate the details of the robbery. The officers finally succeeded in learning, however, that the men entered the cabin while the victims were eating their evening meal. Both men wore masks of white muslin, and as soon as they got inside the door they covered the Chinese with their revolvers and commanded them to deliver up their money and valuables. The Chinese were so surprised that they could make no attempt at protecting themselves, but they nevertheless declined to gratify the thleves by immediately yielding up their golden store, and were seized, securely bound and gunny sacks thrust over their heads. The robbers then proceeded to ransack the place, securing $300 in money, a revolver and other articles. Before leaving they administered to the Chinese a parting kick in payment for the prize, and left them calling loudly for help.

Officers Clements and Woodward searched the premises closely, but could find no clue to the robbers further than that furnished by the neighbor who saw them alight from the car the night before.

Sheriff Burr stated last evening that he was expecting robberies of various kinds and degrees of importance quite frequently from now on until spring. During the winter season there is a large influx of desperate characters who come to Los Angeles to escape the cold weather prevalent in the North and East. This class of people, the Sheriff remarked, always positively refuse to work, and they prey upon the community for what they

COLOR PREDOMINATES IN THE SCRAPPING MATCH.

The White Slugger Laid Out Cold by Walcott in the Eighteenth Round at 'Frisco.

FAST AND ONE-SIDED FIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCAN SEEMED TO BE

the Chicago Nine-Boston Beaten Badly-Sheepshend Results.

IBY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.1 SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Joe Walcott knocked out George Green in the eighteenth round tonight, after one of the fastest fights ever seen in San Francisco. It was rather one-sided, however, Walcott leading in every round with perhaps the excep-tion of the second and twelfth. Green showed none of his old-time dash and vim, and seemed utterly at sea in meet-ing and guarding against the sturdy little colored man's rushes. Green is essentially a body fighter, but tonight he did not land half a dozen good body punches during the entire eighteen rounds. Walcott took his opponent's light left-hand jabs with smiles, and paid him back with right cross-counters on the head and jaw. Green fought against time after the sixth round. Several times he was groggy and hung to the colored man in the clinches.

The eighteenth round opened up about the same as that of the dozen preceding rounds. After about a minute's fighting, Walcott landed a right and left on Green's jaw and a clinch followed. In the break, Walcott brought his right across and knocked Green up against the ropes in Walcott's corner, helpless, with his hands down. With a well-directed right-hand blow on the jaw, Walcott knocked the Cali-fornian through the ropes in the negro's corner. Tim O'Rourke held Green up with his foot upon the ring platform until he was counted out. Green was carried to his dressing-room by

SOME OF THE ROUNDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—No attraction in the puglilistic line since the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey flasco in this city last November has caused as much commotion among the followers of the ring as the meeting tonight of George Green and Joe Walcott. The fight was practically a championship affair. Green is acknowledged to be at the head of his class, since Tommy Ryan has outgrown the welters and is now taking on middleweights. Green's victory over "Mysterious Billy" Smith at Carson last March, after Smith had given Ryan such a close call in New York a few months previous, places him second to Ryan among the welterweights. Walcott's well-known record as a hurricane fighter and his long string of victories in the East led the public to believe that a memorable contest would be the outcome of the meeting of these sturdy young men.

Woodward's Pavilion, holding 7000 people, was jammed to the doors. The betting was 10 to 7½ in Green's favor. Jack Walsh acted as referee.

From the first to the sixth round the fighting was fast, Walcott rushing and Green avoiding his blows and occasionally putting in a body blow or a jab in the face with his left. No damage to either man had been done when the sixth round opened. In the sixth Walcott knocked Green down with a right on the jaw. Green remained down the limit and arose only to be sent down twice more before the round closed. However, Green came up fresh and stood Walcott off during the seventh, in spite of the negro's efforts to put him out.

nearly every time. Green fought back gamely, but only saved himself by frequent clinching.

In the ninth Walcott again tried to finish the Californian, but Green fought back, and when he got in a stiff body punch the crowd yelled with delight. Walcott landed a swinging left on the jaw, but George stood up and delivered a rib-roaster with his right over the heart, and the round closed with Green in better condition.

The tenth round opened with green in better condition.

The tenth round opened with a rush by Walcott, but Green punched the negro in the stomach and slapped him. Walcott kept at his man and landed a right cross on the jaw. Green dropped, but got up in time. Then George went döwn again, but was up once more in time. A third time Walcott sent him down, and a third time Green staggered onto his feet. All this round Green received fearful punishment. He was on his feet when the round closed.

In the eleventh Green got up somewhat revived and put in a hard right over Walcott's heart. The negro kept at his man, but Green kept out of harm's way. Walcott swung right and left on the jaw, Green kept his feet. Walcott eased up a bit in this round.

In the twelfth round Green's good

In the twelfth round Green's good ondition enabled him to recuperate juickly, and he came up briskly, only o receive a right on the jaw that shook him to good or the same up that shook in the same up to the same up im up. George swung his left a couple f times, but missed. Walcott went n to finish him, but could not land in to finish him, but could not land the desired blow.

In the thirteenth Walcott went at his man like a cyclone and delivered his blows with wonderful rapidity. Green got in a left swing on Joe's stomach, his first effective blow of the fight. He landed several good ones, and it was Green's round. The crowd went wild with delight at Green's wonderful exhibition of gameness.

In the fourteenth Walcott rushed as usual, but Green stood him off with a stiff left in the stomach. Green played for Walcott's body and took some of the steam out of his antagonist.

some of the steam out of his antagonist.

In the fifteenth Walcott landed several times on the head and Green retaliated with a right over the heart. Walcott's favorite blow was a right cross on the jaw, and his short-arm jolts did great damage.

Sixteenth round—Walcott went in to a corner. Green was tired and could not keep away. Green landed occasionally, but could do no harm.

Seventeenth round—Walcott was now considered a sure winner, and the crowd began to melt away. The negro could not knock his man out and, beaten as he was, Green fought viclously. A left on the jaw staggered Walcott, and there was a howl of delight from the crowd. Eighteenth round—Walcott's infighting during the clinches was very damaging. He landed a short-arm right and staggered Green. Another on the jaw sent Green on the floor for eight seconds. He got up groggy, and Walcott got him against the ropes and put him out with a right on the jaw. BUDGET OF POLITICS.

WANTED WARRANTS. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.-Application was made to Police Judges Low, and Wallace today by Jacob Halpin for warrants for the arrest of the principals in tonight's contest between welter-weights, George Green and Joe Walcott, but both officials refused to issue them.

EASTERN BASEBALL.

The Giants "Didn't Do a Ting" to Anson's Star Twirler.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The first three men at the bat for New York got baggers off Griffith, and Anson's star twirler lost heart and began to toss the ball over the plate. The base-hit column tells the rest, except perhaps that some of the doubles and triples might have been narrowed down to sin-gles had the Colts' fielders put any vim into its work. Score:

saw the little fellow's body lying in the street.

The child, it seems, tried to climb from the curb into the wagon, as it was passing, lost its footing and fell in front of the rear wheel, which passed over its body, crushing the life out of it instantly.

The driver was much distressed by the accident and was temporarily detained at the Police Station, pending an investigation. The inquest was held at Kregelo & Bresee's in the afternoon, and the Coroner's jury returned a verdict completely exonerating Clemons from blame.

The mother of the child feels her loss all the more keenly because her husband is away from home, having gone to Seattle some time ago in search of work.

and an Auditor-General-Harmonious Meeting in Billy

IBY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.1

OCEAN CITY (Md.,) Aug. 26.-By ote of 61 to 56, the delegates to the Republican State Convention today refused to indorse Senator George L. Wellington and his views as to the leadership of the party in Maryland. The clash between the opposing fac-tions began at the fall of the gavel, which called the convention to order. Senator Wellington, as chairman of State Central Committee, called the convention to order and spoke at length in justification of his course in taking sides in the bitter contest that has been waged between the factions in Baltimore city. He insisted that he had acted for the good of the party. W. T. Buck was elected temporary chairman over the Wellington candi date by a vote of 61 to 56.

After the appointment of Committees on Credentials, Resolutions and Permanent Organization the convention re cessed until 4 p.m., and when it reas-sembled it was see nthat the support-ers of Malster, together with other elements of the party opposed to the colicy of Senaor Wellington, had gained policy of Senaor Wellington, had gained a complete victory.

Atty.-Gen. Harry M. Claubaugh, chairman of the Committee on Credentials, presented a resolution declaring the Republican primaries held in Baltimore to be null and void because of irregularity, and that none of the delegates from the city of Baltimore were entitled to seats in the convention.

The resolutions provided also for the holding of primary elections and city and legislative district conventions in the city of Baltimore September 17 to nominate an entire municipal ticket and elect delegates to the State convention.

The resolution was received with enthusiastic cheer and adopted without a dissenting vote. The Committee on Resolutions asked for further time which was granted and then Mr. Claubaugh presented, and the convention adopted, a resolution that the convention adjourn to meet at Raines Hall in Baltimore on September 17.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Standard's correspondent at Sebastian says:
"I learn that Spain has intimated her willingness to make considerable reductions in the contemplated West Indian tariffs in order to develop the trade of Cuba with the United States, and was willing to negotiate a reci-procity treaty when the Dingley tariff came into force; but the United States Government received her advances coldly because it wanted the Cuban question settled first. Indeed, Spain is now aware that American diplomacy will soon raise other and more important questions before any commercial questions are likely to be mooted."

THE COLORED PICNIC.

ODD FELLOWS' OUTING.

Fight Over Awarding of Prizes Stone Throwing and Promiscu-ous Shooting — W. H. Brisco Drives Off a Bridge and Gets

The colored Odd Fellows' picnic at Sycamore Grove yesterday was marred by several untoward incidents, though the whole it was a very recherché upon the whole it was a very recherche affair. The colored four hundred were there, togged out in all their finery, and all went well until the awarding of the prizes by the judges for the best dancing.

While awards were being made a dispute arose between two colored brothers on the dancing platform, over brothers on the dancing platform, over the distribution of prizes, and one slapped the other's face. A free fight seemed imminent, but Police Officer Stewart, who was on duty at the picnic by special request of the management, quelled the disturbance before anybody got seriously hurt. During the fracas a woman in the crowd got hit on the arm with a cane by one of the excited negroes. The skin was broken and when others saw the blood, a report gained circulation that she had been shot, but the true facts were soon learned and things once more quieted down.

learned and things once more queted down.

Officer Stewart was kept busy during the afternoon suppressing small "scraps," but nothing serious occurred until late in the evening, when the crowds were returning to the city on the electric cars. While a colored man named Tolbert and a party of friends were standing by the track waiting for a car, some one threw a stone into the crowd, which struck Tolbert in the face, badly bruising his jaw. It is thought the missile was not intended for Tolbert, but for another colored man who resembles him, and who had had trouble with another negro, who vowed vengeance.

About the same time further excitement was caused by a party of young negroes going out into the bushes and firing a volley with their revolvers. Men shouted and women screamed, and for a while it was thought a riot was in progress, but it developed that a couple of young bucks were simply firing into the air for amusement.

The most serious casualty of the day occurred about 11 p.4m., when W. H. Brisco, a young colored man who works for N. Bonfilio, proprietor of the Excelsior Laundry, drove off the small bridge just north of Sycamore Grove, and horse, buggy and man were piled up in a heap at the bottom of the ravine.

Brisco sustained a broken collar bone and a sprained shoulder, the buggy was smashed into pieces, and Officer Stewart was kept busy during

The horse and buggy belonged to Brisco's employer, Mr. Bonfilio. The negro is said to have been too intoxicated to notice that the bridge was partly torn up for repairs, so he drove right in. He says there were no lights to give warning, but others tell a different story.

Brisco was extricated by a crowd of men and sent to the Receiving Hospital, but before the horse could be rescued, the crowd departed on the last car to town and left the poor animal, which is said to be a valuable one, to its fate.

After Brisco's injuries were attended by Police Surgeon Hagan, he started out to look after the horse. The watchman at the laundry was notified by the police and he got up a party of men to go to the rescue of the animal. Mr. Bonfilio spends the nights at Santa Monica and could not be notified.

Boarding Schools Consolidated.

The Eton school, which was burned The Eton school, which was burned out during vacation, will not be reopened in its old quarters at No. 136 West Pico street. The building was so badly damaged by the fire as to make it unfit for the purpose, except at great expense for repairs. In looking around for new quarters, Prof. H. A. Brown, the principal, effected a consolidation of the Eton school with the Los Angeles Military Academy, a classical and English military boarding school, located in the southwestern part of the city. Prof. Brown will move with his pupils and faculty to the latter institution at the beginning of the fall term, September 8.

Biscailuz, the erratic attorney, was arraigned in the Police Court yester-day for petty larceny. He pleaded not guilty and asked to be allowed to go guilty and asked to be allowed to go on his own recognizance, pending trial, which was set for next Monday. Deputy District Attorney Chambers objected, because only a few days ago he was released on parole pending trial for drunkenness, and he went forth and committed fresh depredations. Biscalluz then asked to be sent to the County Hospital pending trial, as he claimed to be ill. The court informed him that the Police Surgeon could settle that point, and Biscalluz was sent back to his cell. He has difficulty in obtaining a lawyer to defend him, as many members of the bar have lost law books in the past, and it is for purleining law books that Biscalluz is in limbo.

MINES AND MINING.

MINING BOOMS IN EVERY DI-RECTION.

The Rush to Trinity County-A Word of Caution-The Sierra Los Angeles as a Mining-supply County Gold.

To judge from a perusal of the San Francisco papers, the mining craze is now under full headway in this State. Pages are filled every day with elaborate details and theories regarding the gold discoveries of Alaska, of Trinity county and of other places. It is a cold day when news is not published of a new gold strike in some section of the United States. The Times has already warned its readers to beware of attaching too much importance to these rumors, which are in many cases deliberately invented, for the purpose of causing a rush of prospectors to a place, for the benefit of transportation companies, hotels and stores TRINITY COUNTY.

Hundreds of prospectors are now rushing into Trinity county, and it is probable that a considerable portion of those who are unable to get away to Klondyke this year will drift into these northern mines. The excitement was caused by the publication of a story regarding a rich pocket of gold taken out of Coffee Creek by the Graves story regarding a rich pocket of gold taken out of Coffee Creek by the Graves brothers. The find was said to amount to $42,000. Others say that this is an exaggeration, but even should it be true, it does not by any means follow that other prospectors are going to be as fortunate.

Trinity county is undoubtedly very rich in gold, having produced something like $100,000,000 worth of the precious metal during the past fifty years. In early years the shipments from Trinity went as high as from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 per annum. Most of this gold, however, is hidden away in the quartz, and it takes hard work to recover it. Even when a gold ledge is found, a large amount of capital is needed to open it. Those who go to Trinity county and are disappointed will, it is true, be far better off than those who go to the bleak Klondyke country and fall to strike it rich, but still, there is no reason why anyone should rush off, even to Northern California, with mistaken ideas of picking up a fortune on top of the ground. For every man who makes a strike there will be 100 failures. At the same time for the experienced prospector or even for the "tenderfoot," who is willing to work and wait, there is certainly no better field to prospect in than California.

THE SIERRA MADRE.

THE SIERRA MADRE.

A few weeks ago The Times referred the the mineral wealth of the Sierra Madre range, and the possibilities of striking rich ore there. During the past fifty years quite a large amount of gold and silver has been extracted from the range, between Mount Wilson and Old Baldy. One of the difficulties of prospecting in this range is ties of prospecting in this range is thickness of the brush which cov-the ground. Were it not for this ers the ground. Were it not for this there is little doubt that some sensa ere this. On Old Baldy gold mining has been carried on more or less for over half a century.

There is a story of an old Mexican woman who, years ago, used to go up a gulch back of Duarte, to some point just beyond the ridge, and, atter staying away a few days, some back with a sack of very rich quartz, from which she pounded out the gold. The old Mexican woman died and her secret went with her. A party is now out in the mountains trying to locate this lost mine.

LOS ANGELES A SUPPLY CENTER Reference has been made by The Times on several occasions to the cheapness of mining supplies here, as Times on several occasions to the cheapness of mining supplies here, as one of the great advantages of mining in Southern California. A striking corroboration of this was obtained a few days ago from E. T. Loy of the Armagosa mine, whose office is in Los Angeles. The company commenced purchasing supplies about six months ago, during which period it has expended here over $7000 for mining supplies. The company obtained quotations for machinery and other articles from leading houses in San Francisco, Denver and Los Angeles, and found that, with few exceptions, the goods could be purchased to better advantage here than either in Denver or San Francisco.

This is only one company out of scores that are operating in Los Angeles. The merchants and manufacturers of this city should realize the importance of the mining industry to Los Angeles, and use every effort to advertise the advantage which we possess in supplying mines in Southern California and Arizona. Almost all descriptions of mining machinery are now manufactured in this city, although a good many mining men are not aware good many mining men are not aware of that fact.

AN OLD MINE. The Armagosa, which is located seventy-five miles north of Daggett, is an interesting mine. It has been worked for over half a century. In the office of the company are old implements that were found in the mine when it was recently reopened. There are also some large chunks of ore, showing free gold in liberal quantities gold in liberal quantities.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY GOLD.

An important mining enterprise, of which little is heard, has been under way in Riverside county for the past couple of years. This is the Gavilan Syndicate and Riverside Gold Mining Company, successors of the English corporation which purchased the Temescal tin mines. Having made a failure with tin, the company is now developing the numerous gold ledges which are found in the 50,000 acres included in the tract, which extends from near South Riverside to the neighborhood of Perris. It is stated that some most encouraging strikes have been made of late, and that arrangements are under way to put up a 20-stamp mill.

LOWER CALIFORNIA.

One of the latest mining enterprises RIVERSIDE COUNTY GOLD.

LOWER CALIFORNIA.

One of the latest mining enterprises in which Los Angeles people are interested is that of a company of San Francisco people, who have organized as the Santa Rosalia Bay Mining Company, to exploit some gold property in Lower California, twenty miles inland from Rosalia Bay, and twenty miles south of San Diego. The find was made by W. T. Hall of Los Angeles in the early part of 1895. Hall is the man who took the first engine out of Los Angeles when the railroad strike was in progress. He went to Lower California for the purpose of pearl fishing and brought back some rich specimens of ore to San Francisco, whereupon, after investigation, the company was formed.

CALIFORNIA VERSUS KLONDYKE CALIFORNIA VERSUS KLONDYKE

To read some of the papers one would imagine that nothing approaching the richness of the Klondyke placers was ever known before. Such, however, is by no means the case. The Mining and Scientific Press calls attention to the fact that the value of the Yukon gravel is not so very refor drunkenness, and he went forth and committed fresh depredations. Biscalluz then asked to be sent to the County Hospital pending trial, as he claimed to be ill. The court informed him that the Police Surgeon could settle that point, and Biscalluz was sent back to his cell. He has difficulty in obtaining a lawyer to defend him, as many members of the bar have lost law books in the past, and it is for purloining law books that Biscalluz is in limbo.

CHEAP MINING.

CHEAP MINING.

Astonishing reductions have been made in the cost of mining gold during the past few years. In idaho it is said there is a mill which reduces ore for $4.50 per ton. The great Treadwell mine, Alaska, is to have 240 more stamps, making in all 480 stamps, which will be the largest stamp mill in the world. When this addition is made, it is said that the cost of mining and milling the Treadwell ore will not exceed $1 per ton.

that is done nowadays on the San Francisco stock board, the Examiner has the following, which is also more or less applicable to the two-for-a-nickel trade that forms such a large percentage of the business done on our local boards:

"A local paper in quoting the business of the stock board recently spoke of the "sharp rise" one of the stocks experienced that day. The "sharp rise" was 5 cents per share. It so forcibly reminded us of the time when we thought it a dull day's business that did not see Ophir, Gould & Curry, or Hale & Norcross fluctuate from $50 to $250 a share. Could we have looked forward to the day when the advance of 5 cents a share on a stock should be of sufficient importance to call forth special comment. Don't it look as if stock deals were getting down to very small potatoes? It certainly is a great change."

ANOTHER NEW CYANIDE PRO-

ANOTHER NEW CYANIDE PRO-

Every few months the announ Is made of the discovery of a new cyanide process. Like the new dry-washers that come out so frequently, most of these processes prove to be deficient in some necessary quality when they are tried on a practical scale. The latest to be brought forward is the fol-lowing, the description of which is taken from the Mining and Scientific lowing, the description of which is taken from the Mining and Scientific Press;

"Dr. Keith, formerly of this city, now of London, claims to have invented a cyanide process, in which, in the dissolving process, he adds to the solution of potassium cyanide a certain quantity of cyanide of mercury. He states that he finds the best results obtained when the solvent contains 0.05 per cent. of potassium cyanide, and 0.025 per cent. cyanide of mercury. This mixture of cyanides, he claims, operates faster than the simple potassium cyanide: The process for the recovery of the gold from the solution is an electrolytic one. The gold and the mercury are deposited together upon amalgamated copper plates. The amalgam so deposited is then scraped off, and the gold recovered by distilling off the mercury in the usual way. The anode is not allowed to dip in the cyanide solution, but is placed in a separate compartment and surrounded with a solution of alkaline salt, so that the cyanide does not become decomposed. The electro-motive force of the current need not be more than half a volt, and the current density on the depositing surface may be as low as 0.56 ampere per square foot."

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] The building of the muchalked-of bath-house still hangs free. A scheme is being discussed as to whether the city cannot build it and issue bonds for that purpose. Most of the business men of this city are in favor of such action, but, as is usual in such cases, there are many kickers. A serious accident occurred at the home of Juan Mesa on Ortega street last evening. The family were seated at supper on their back porch, which also serves as a kitchen. The underpinning gave way and precipitated the party, table and cook-stove, to the ground. They fell some twelve feet, and sustained painful, though not serious, injuries. THE MISFORTUNES OF SILVER.

An esteemed contemporary utters complaint that sound money newspapers are rejoicing at the drop in silver, which is not so. The friends of honest money appreciate the fact that the business of silver mining is one of vast importance, and they would be glad to see that industry prosper along with other industries of the country; but it does not follow that free coinage should be gone into simply to help out the owners of silver mines. If there is an air of rejoicing in Republican comments on the silver situation it is because the fallacies of the free-coinage cranks have been made so plain by events that the friends of honest money use the object lesson to "call down" Bryan and his flat-money followers. No one is glad that silver has gone down in price, nor that silver mines have had to close down operations, but if they would but acknowledge it, there are tens of thousands of men who voted for Mr. Bryan that are secretly rejoicing because the country was saved from the disaster that must have come upon it had the Union," to defeat the Populist invacause of sound money failed at the ast election. Silver has its place in the world, but, unsupported by collaterals, so to speak, it cannot be given a position as a money metal by legislation any more than the price of wheat can be fixed by statute. The world is using all the silver it needs. and until there is an increased demand for it, there can be no increase in its value. It stands in our coinage system along with the nickel and the copper cent, the values of which are maintained by their redemption valuetheir intrinsic worth cutting no figure in the question.

THE CUBAN SITUATION.

Affairs in Cuba continue to go from oad to worse, and it is evident that a decisive crisis cannot long be deferred. A dispatch from Havana, under date of August 26, contains the information that there are 4000 Spanish soldiers in the hospitals of Havana and other points; that about two thousand Spanish soldiers are sent back to Spain each month, as incapacitated for service by sickness; that sickness is steadily increasing; that the death rate in Havana, as shown by official reports, was 90 per 1000 for the week ending August 12: that business is at a complete standstill; that the opportunity for us to begin work the army is not being paid; and that "a feeling of hopelessness prevails Union. The immediate problem of among the Spaniards and Cubans alike." Sickness, famine and untold suffering prevail everywhere on the

This condition of affairs is in the ast degree pitiable. It is contrary to the spirit and the possibilities of civilization. It is the last extremity of a warfare which is disastrous to both combatants. The common voice of humanity cries out against the continuance of the conditions which have reduced one of the fairest and most fertile sections of the globe to such dire extremities. If anything can be done to ameliorate these terrible con ditions, the remedy should be applied with as little delay as possible. Gen. Stewart L. Woodward has been sent to Spain as a representative of the United States on a special mission The precise nature of his instructions has not yet been made public, but it is certain that they will have an important bearing upon the present deplorable situation of affairs in Cuba. The success of Gen. Woodford's mission is problematical, but the administration, in commissioning him to act on behalf of this government, was unquestionably actuated by a sincere desire to ameliorate the condition of Cuba, and to put an end to the dev astating and disastrous war.

If Gen. Woodford's mission fails, it may be necessary for our government to take positive and energetic measures to bring about a cessation of hostilities. The course of events must determine the nature of those meas ures. Our government will be fully justified in a positive course of action by the large extent of American interests in Cuba, as well as by the proximity of the island to our shores. And we may rest assured that whatever action may be taken by the administration will be taken only after mature deliberation, and in the full assur ance that it is for the best. Whatever policy may be adopted by this government will be carried out with firm ness, regardless of threats or protesta tions from any source.

The march through the streets of Buffalo of the veterans of the war for the Union, with the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States at their head-he who was once a private in the ranks-was a spectacle to stir the blood of the stoic and fire the patriotic heart. The thought of it thrills and exalts one: but how n more stirring must have been the sight of the long lines of real soldiers, the music of the bands, the glint of the eagles on the standards, the waving of the bright new flags and the fluttering of the shot-riddled old ensigns that came out of the battle smoke bearing the trade-mark of victory. This will be a lonesome land when the last campfire of the old boys is held and the bugles sound retreat in the face of the universal foeman who stops his march for no army, and whose captured legions lie in the dungeons where there is neither figure with the irate gentleman who the light of sun nor star.

DRY-AIR THEORY.

WILL BE TESTED ON FRUIT ON A MIDLAND TRAIN.

Col. Clark Balcolin of Colorado Thinks He Has Solved the Problem of Transporting Green Stuff to Market.

IBY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.1 DENVER (Colo.,) Aug. 26.-[Special Dispatch.] An experiment in regard to the transportation of fruit from Colorado to Eastern markets will be made next Saturday over the Midland, which f successful, will mark an era in fruit trade and will revolutionize the fruitshipping industry. It is a scheme for preserving fresh fruit, and is founded upon the principle that dry fresh air is far more beneficial to fruit than is the moist foul air of a refrigerator car.

Col. Clark Balcom, an old-time resident of Colorado and a man who has paid much attention to the fruit-raising and shipping industry, is the inventor of the dry-air car. will accompany the first car upon its trial trip to Chi-cago, starting from Grand Junction Saturday. Fruit men in Colorado will be notified by wire of the success or failure of the enterprise, and are con-siderably excited over the project. The trip will be made upon a passenger train, and, if successful a contract for a number of cars will be given at once. In the new car an automatic draught of air is kept flowing through it. To accomplish this an immense metal funnel, nearly twice as large as the boilerhead of a locomotive, is attached to the engine, just above the pilot, and from this funnel a pipe about one foot in diameter extends back to the fruit car Thus the motion of the train forces the draught through the car. The compartments are arranged on the side of the car which allow free circulation of the air, and the fruit is packed in card-board cases, very much resembling the cases in which eggs are shipped. This makes perfect ventilation, and, according to the dry-air theory, will preserve fruit for several days longer than wil

Mangled by an Electric Car While

Stealing a Ride.

The 11-year-old son of Rev. C. G. Belknap of No. 954 West Thirty-fifth street, was maimed by an electric car Tuesday afternoon. The boy, with several companions, boarded a west-bound University car at McClintock and Thirty-fifth streets for the purpose of stealing a ride. At the appearance of the conductor they jumped off. Young Belknap alighted on the left-hand side immediately in front of a car approaching from the opposite direction. His right leg was caught between one of the wheels and the foot-board, and he was dragged some distance. The little fellow's leg was badly mangled from the knee downward, which may result in his being a circule for life.

Considerable progress was made yesterday by the Finance Committee in solving the difficult problem of the distribution of the city's revenues among the various departments. was expected, the committee will in the main adopt the City Auditor's figures in fixing the sum to be allowed to each department. The police department, however, will receive $1000 more than the Auditor allowed, in order that a covered patrol wagon and a team of forses may be purchased. The committee reluctantly decided that no ap propriation could be made for estabng a police signal system, much as it is needed. The police force will however, be increased by the add tion of ten new patrolmen, provision for this being made in the Auditor' estimate.

The Park Board will also be favored by an allowance of $1000 in excess of the Auditor's estimate, for the improvement of Elysian Park.

Other departments of the city will be forced to content themselves with the sums allowed by the City Auditor. In some of the departments, notably that of the Public schools, this will work great hardship. The rapidly increasing number of school children demands an increase in the force of teachers and many improvements in the school buildings and equipment are needed. The Public Library also needs more than it will get. The fire department will receive some $40,000 less than Chief Moore's estimate of requirements. The Park Board will also be favored

The Public Library Will Be Supplied With Plants.

The Park Commissioners met in regular session yesterday morning.

Commissioner J. M. Griffith, who has been charged with violating the provisions of the city charter by selling lumber to the city while holding municipal office, brought the matter before the board. Mr. Griffith is a stockholder in the Griffith Lumber Company. At his request City Attorney Dunn was called and be gave it as his opinion that there had been no violation of the charter. The sale of goods to the city by a company in which a city official is a stockholder, would not, in the City Attorney's estimation, constitute such violation. He will investigate the question further and report at the next meeting.

The appointment of S. Farquhar as watchman at East Side Park was confirmed.

J. B. Dockweiler, president of the Library Board, appeared before the Commissioners and requested that potted plants be placed in the rooms and corridors of the library when the improvements now in progress shall be completed. The request was granted.

The committee charged with the investigation of the charges against J. V. Rushton, the park employé accused of speaking disrespectfully of members of the Council, was not ready to report and was granted further time. The Park Commissioners met in reg-

In his complaint, Webb stated that his wife had made several attempts at suicide, that she was noisy at times and had to be continually watched in order to keep her from injuring herself or others. When Sheriff Burrheard the man's story on Wednesday he suspected that something was wrong. Webb, he says, acted in a very peculiar manner and refused to reply to many of his questions. He therofore, resolved to look into the case for his own satisfaction, and after considerable difficulty finally found Mrs. Webb at No. 303 Wolfskill avenue. In reply to questions the woman stated that she had left her husband about nine months ago, because she could no longer live with him, and was following dresmakisng for a livelihood. about fine months ago, because she could no longer live with him, and was following dresmakisng for a livelihood. Webb, she said, appeared to be jealous of her and frequently became abusive.

These statements were corroborated in court yesterday forenoon when Mrs. Webb was placed on the stand. She said, further, that Webb came to her the other night and demanded that she stay with him. This she refused to do, adding that she would prefer to first take morphine and do away with herself.

The examination failed to establish the slightest trace of insanity, and the assertion that Mrs. Webb had at any time attempted to commit suicide was clearly disproved.

The husband was called to the stand where he made a rambling statement utterly devoid of anything tending to confirm the charges brought against his wife. The whole affair "petered out" so completely that Judge Van Dyke dismissed the case without further investigation. As he did so he turned to Webb and administered a "roasting."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ONE HUNDRED MORE TEACHERS NEEDED.

This City Furnished One-fourth of the New Pupils in the State This Year.

SCHOOLS BEGGING FOR MONEY

THE FULL LIMIT ALLOWED BY THE CHARTER REQUIRED

f All the New Pupils are to Have a Chance to Study, Many Improve-ments Must Be Made - The Ten-months' School Term

The public schools of Los Angeles need and must have ready money. The City Superintendent now draws from the State and county funds money for the salaries of 334 teachers, and to this is added the appropriation of the city for school purposes. When the schools open this year, however, 435 teachers will be employed at the very least and probably a larger number, being 101 more teachers than were provided for last year.

more teachers than were provided for last year.

The increase in the number of teachers is due to the surprising increase in the number of school children in this city. San Francisco city and county had an increase by immigration, births, etc., of 3018 children during the past year, while Los Angeles city and county, with only a third of the population claimed by the metropolis, had an increase of 3048 school children during the same period.

In this connection, the school census of 1896-97 presents some interesting figures. The gain of school children throughout the entire State from June 30, 1896 to June 30, 1897, was 10,179. Of this number Los Angeles county furnished 3048 new school children or 29.9 per cent. of the grain of the entire State. Over one-fourth.

Now, of the county gain, Los Angeles city alone furnishes 2705 children, or 88.7 ptr cent. of the county gain.

In other words, the children added to the public schools of Los Angeles city during the past year amount to 26½ per cent of the total gain in the whole State of California.

Los Angeles is ready to place in her public schools when they open 2705 new pupils out of the 10,179 new pupils in the whole State.

These figures mean somethnig. A city that furnishes nearly one-fourth of the new pupils in an entire State in one year must certainly have unoney enough to care for them, if they are to be properly educated.

According to City Superintenlent of In this connection, the school census be propely educated.

According to City Superintenlent of Schools Foshay, if the annual apportionment from the tax levy that the Council is empowered to give to the public schools is 20 cents on the public schools, i.e, 20 cents on 100, is granted that fund, there be ample money not only to hire additional teachers, but to provide better school facilities for all the pupils, new and old. The law regarding the amount of money that the City Council may give to the public schools is found in subdivision 9 of section 7 of the city charter, and reads as fol-"To determine annually the amount of money required for the support of the public schools, and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law in the public schools, and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law in reference thereto; and in pursuance of this provision the Board of Education shall, on or before the 15th day of July sand, on or before the 1sth day or suly each year, submit in writing to the City Council a careful estimate of the whole amount of money to be received from the State and county and the amount required from the solty for the above purposes, and the City Council shall in each year fix the per centage of taxes to be levied and collected for school purposes; provided, that the shall in each year fix the per centage of taxes to be levied and collected for school purposes; provided, that the amount to be thus levied for school purposes shall not exceed 20 cents on each $100 valuation upon the assessment roll, and that when collected it shall be paid into the school fund."

Nearly every department of the city government is begging for money and the Council is confronted with a proposition of many mouths to feed, and a scanty larder. Some of the departments must suffer, but Superintendent Foshay does not want it to be the school department.

"We must keep up our schools," he said yesterday, "and we must properly care for these new children who are knocking at the doors this year. They are largely children of people who have come here from the East. You can readily see that if Los Angeles is to build up and grow great, we must AFTER THE BEST COMPANY.

Martin M. Levering Sues for Possession of a Traction Engine.

Martin M. Levering has brought suit against the Best Manufacturing Company to obtain a steam freighting outfit, consisting of a traction engine and machinery, and tools, necessary in the operation of the same, which he had contracted to purchase.

Levering states in his complaint filed with the County Clerk yesterday that on May 27, 1897, he entered into a contract with the Best Company for the purchase of the steam freighting outfit, for which he was to pay $4400. The engine was a Danby and the company agreed to forward it to Los Angeles. When it arrived here the outfit was placed in charge of an engineer employed by the company, with the instructions that he keep it in his possession until satisfied that Lenering was able to pay for it.

Lenering says he was under contract with the city of Los Angeles to furnish a large amount of gravel which he expected to haul with the engine proud of it, are proud of it. But a new and startling situation now confronts us.

"Here is an increase in Los Angeles city alone of nearly one-fourth the total of the new pupils eligible to enter the schools of the State in September next. Last year we had to run schools on half time, and if we are denied a proper force of teachers this year it will be even worse. I know and realize that the police and other departments need money, and need it badly, but it is now a question whether the schools be helped and some other department suffer.

"There is another question," continued Supt. Foshay, "concerning the schools that needs explanation. We have always given our pupils the teamonths' schooling the State law provides for. The idea to start the schools later in the fall and run them later in the spring is, unfortunately, not according to law. I am well aware that July in this climate is preferable to September as a school month, but the law says we must close not according to law. I am well aware that July in this climate is preferable to September as a school month, but the law says we must close the school year on or before June 30 of each year. The matter is not optional with the Board of Education. We must obey the law, and hence to postpone the opening of the schools would be to cut short the term and deprive the pupils of tuition to which they are entitled. The State law is made for the whole State and not for any section of it, and while the law is all right for the northern counties, it would suit us much better here to open school on October 1 and close July 31 of each year than to open in September and close in June."

The City Superintendent and members of the Board of Education are anxiously awaiting the final action of the Council in the matter of appropriations. More teachers, additional school room and better facilities must be provided if all the Los Angeles children, eligible as pupils to the free schools, are to be given the opportunity of education the law provides they shall have.

ALL ALONG THE LINE

Sailing bicycles are the latest. It is well that they are practically contemporary with horseless carriages, for the apparition of a full-rigged wheel, scudding before the wind at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, is calculated to rasp the stoutest equine nerves.

It is reported that the man-eating shark, hitherto unknown along this part of the Coast, has invaded the waters of Southern California. A small shark, said to be of that species was caught last week at Catalina, and yesterday a fourteen-footer was hauled ashore at Fisherman's Cove. It is not alleged that the big shark had any human remains inside, and there may be some doubt about his having an appetite for bathers. There are bathers at the beaches whom no shark would tackle unless he were blind.

A San Bernardino court has decided that the conviction and sentence of an offender by a Justice of the Peace holding court on Sunday are void and count. It was a Barstow man who had been fined for battery, and he was turned loose by the decision. The Sunday law is a queer contrivance. A man may commit a crime on Sunday and it is still a crime, but he cannot be punished by a sentence passed on Sunday. It is a wonder that the Sunday-law cranks have left to the police the authority to make arrests on Sunday.

The idea advanced by the Chamber of Commerce, of preparing a hand-some pamphlet descriptive of Los Angeles and Southern California for distribution among the miners of Alaska certainly original and enterprising It is an example of the manner which this section keeps itself to the front by persistent and judicious advertising, while other parts of the State are sitting down and walting for business to come to them. They are laying out a new town near the mouth of the Yukon River, to be called "Port Get There." Los Angeles is certainly the Port Get There of the South.

The condition of the city's finances forcibly illustrates the inadequacy of the charter under which Los Angeles is now governed. The rate of taxation for general city expenses, including police, parks, schools, fire department streets, and all other branches of municipal government, is limited to $1 per hundred. The amount that can be raised with this limit is far below the city's requirements. Only by radical reductions from the estimated needs of the various departments will it be possible to bring expenses within speaking distance of the revenue for the current year. A deficit of at least $15,000 is inevitable. The school board urgently petitioned for an increased appropriation in order to provide for the fast-growing population of school children, but the request must be denied. A larger police force and a police alarm system are imperatively necessary for the proper protection of life and property, but they cost money and the city has no money to spend. The usefulness of the Public Library will be seriously imperiled by the lack of funds for the purchase of books. The fire department is clamoring for new and improved apparatus, but its needs must remain unsatisfied. The efficiency of almost every department will be seriously impaired, even with the most rigid economies. The only alleviating feature of the situation is the possibility that the public may at length awake to the importance of adopting a charter suited to the city's Urick's Examination.

The preliminary examination of L. Urick, on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was commenced before Justice Morrison yesterday. The complaining witness is a man named Wucherer, who was severely beaten over the head with a piece of castiron pipe, about two feet long and an luch and a quarter in diameter. The fight took place in the oil region July 19. It was a row over some oil property, and from evidence submitted, Wucherer appears to have been an outsider who got mixed up in the fracas by accident rather than design. Several physicians testified as to the nature of Wucherer's injuries, which were so severe that a consultation of physicians was necessary. The evidence was not all in when court adjourned for the day. The examination will be resumed this morning. Urick's Examination.

LOS ANGELES NOW HARBORS THE LATEST WRINKLE.

Clever Device of an Oakland Bicyclist Put to Practical Test on SCUDDING BEFORE THE WIND.

BROKEN PEDAL MAKES A HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL.

How the Wheelmen Coasted, Blev and Were Towed Down the Val-ley-Curious Crowds Welcome the Wheels.

Quite the latest thing in wheels is a bicycle with a sail. Two of these labor-saving roadsters are in Los Anreading roadsters are in Los Angeles now, having been sailed into town by E. G. Wilbur and N. D. Hemstreet, both of Oakland. The sail device originated in the inventive brain of Mr. Wilbur, who is an enthusiastic wheelman, and who has made a close study of the science of bicycling. Like many another clever idea, the whole thing is so strong that it is whole thing is so simple that it is a wonder no one ever though of it before. A strip of board, three inches wide, runs the whole length of the frame, below the handlebars and sad-dle. Three holes are bored in this strip of wood, one for the handlestrip of wood, one for the handle-bar post, one for the saddle post and the third just over the step on the rear wheel. Through this third hole, runs a bamboo rod, which stands up between four and five feet from the level of the saddle. This rod has a pulley at the top, and is reinforced by another rod which runs up alongside another rod which runs up alongside to steady the sail.

The sail itself contains thirty-six square feet of canvas. It is square in shape, and is held in place by bamboo rods run through the hems across top and bottom. At the bottom, the cross rod is fastened firmly to the main pole where the latter passes through the board, though in such a manner as to give full play to the sail in turning from side to side to catch the breeze. The top rod is attached to the pulley by a rope which runs down to the frame of the bicycle, so that the rider can raise or lower the sail at will. Guy ropes on either side regulate the turning and setting of the sail in such position that it will catch the full benefit of the breeze. Four wires, two on each side, run catch the full benefit of the Drezze.

Four wires, two on each side, run across the sail from top to bottom, as guides for its folding when shut, so that it can be dropped instantly by merely loosening the main staying rope.

Fifty pounds of baggage is carried on each wheel, blankets, provisions, cooking utensils and other necessities for a camping trip. In this light marching order the two wheelmen started from Oakland for their tour through the South.

San José was the real starting point, for the wheels were carried to that city by train. The travelers left San José at 1 o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, August 10, and sailed that afternoon to San Juan, a distance of about seventy miles. The average speed of sailing wheels is about fiften miles an heur, though with a stiff breeze they will easily cover twenty-five miles on a down grade.

"Talk about creating a sensation." said Mr. Wilbur yesterday. "We made more rubbernecking down this coast than a circus elephant. People just stood still and gaped. In the Sailnas Valley, where it is windy, the hayseeds couldn't see anything but two white sheets and a streak of dust, and they didn't know what to make of it. We sild along like cup defenders until we struck some sandplies and we turned those up like gangplows. It's a great way to travel."

"We had our troubles, though," continued Mr. Wilbur, with a retrospective air. "When we were within ten miles of Los Alamos, Hemstreet broke his right pedal. We had to work, then, so we hitched up like a tandem, with the sound bicycle ahead towing the disabled wheel along by a rope. We changed off, each towing the other for ten-mile stretches, until the wind came up in the afternoon. Then I took both loads on my wheel and we sailed seventeen miles to Santa Ynez, where Hemstreet's other pedal dropped off. Then we towed each other again for about five miles to the River stage station, where we camped for the night."

"Next morning, Hemstreet took my wheel and went on to Santa Barbara, while I maneuvered the disabled wheel as best I could. When it was down grade I could coast along all right enough, but it was hard getting up. I set the sail and took two canes, one in each hand. I guided the wheel with my feet on the coasters, and propelled it along l

The outlook for the immediate future of the market has never been better than it is today. Everything points to an active demand for real estate, at higher prices, this fall. A very large amount of money will be distributed among the fruit-growers and farmers, and will find its way into general circulation. Besides this, reports from the East indicate that there will be an large excursion of home Southern California during the coming winter, not to mention the fortunate gold seekers from the North, many of whom will doubtless follow the example of Creede, Schieffelin and others, who made homes in Los Angeles, after making a fortune in the

EXCHANGES.

Much of the real estate business now being transacted in Los Angeles is in the nature of exchanges. There always seems to be a big crop of people in this section who want to move from the town to the country, or from the country to the town, and it is often possible for them to arrange such transfers in the way of exchange, when they would not be able to make a sale.

Apropos of exchanges, an interesting discussion arose at a recent meeting of the Chicago Real Estate Board, concerning the matter of commissions on exchange of property, where the same person is acting for both parties. The reference committee asked the attorney of the board for an opinion, and he replied:

"Upon this question we answer that of the real estate business nov piled:

"Upon this question we answer that an agent acting for both parties is not in a position to recover commissions from either, unless he can affirmatively show that both parties not only knew of the fact and dealt with him accordingly, but that each party and separately employed him and agreed to pay commissions for his interest in the exchange. There is in law a presumption of unfair dealing arising from the mere fact of the double agency.

where each of the contracting parties employs the agent with full knowledge that he represents the other also we do not see any legal objection to we do not see any legal objection to his recovering his commission, but in such a case more proof would be neces-sary than usual to show an employ-ment, as each party may have dealt with him supposing him to be the agent

We suppose the above to be the "We suppose the above to be the only question submitted to us, but suggest that a prudent method would be to state in the contract the name of the agent, and that he is employed by both parties, and that each is to pay a commission to the full amount of the value of his own land.

"Unless the substance of this clearly appears, he would probably have difficulty in collecting his commissions and determining the amount."

TEMPLE STREET.

TEMPLE STREET.

Another effort is to be made by the Northwestern Improvement Association to secure the grading of Temple tion to secure the grading of Temple street hill, by a cut of 6½ feet at Bunker Hill avenue. As The Times has said on previous occasions, if the property-owners had been more reasonable in their demands for a cut, when the subject was first broached, the improvement might have been made long ere this. They stood out, however, for a cut which would have revolutionized the entire district, and it is not surprising that the movement was a failure. Whether or not the latest proposition will meet with suclatest proposition will meet there is cess remains to be seen. There is certainly an urgent need for a better thoroughfare, which grade on this thoroughfare, which carries an enormous amount of traffic.

THE PASADENA BOULEVARD. While it is the general belief that the Pasadena boulevard will before long become an accomplished fact, it would be more encouraging all around if a definite conclusion could be reached by all parties interested. The route proposed by the committee appears to be a most excellent one. The people of East Los Angeles should be specially interested in this pro-ject, as it would open up a direct and convenient approach to that much neglected section of the city. As The Times has said, it need not by any means be supposed that the construc-tion of one boulevard would prevent the building of others. In fact, the open-ing of one good boulevard would undoubtedly prove to be an object lessor that would lead to the inauguration of several similar enterpris

SAN PEDRO STREET. The twenty-acre Sabichi tract, at the corner of Seventh and San Pedro streets, is to be subdivided and placed streets, is to be subdivided and placed on the market. It is a well-located tract, for which a very large sum was offered during the boom, and refused by Mr. Sabichi at that time. It is announced that the tract will be divided into lots 25 by 120 feet in size, with alleys 15 feet in width. These are very small lots—smaller than anything that has been placed on the market for a long time. The streets will be improved before the lots are offered for sale. Should the proposed San Pedro street electric line be built in the near future, it will undoubtedly cause quite a demand for property along that thoroughfare.

DENVER AND SAN FRANCISCO.

DENVER AND SAN FRANCISCO. DENVER AND SAN FRANCISCO.

A Denver correspondent, writing in an Eastern paper in regard to the wonderful growth of Denver, and the openings for real estate investment there, calls attention to the fact that, since 1883, the city has more than trebled in size and population, increasing from 50,000 to over 160,000. This is a good showing, but it is not so good as that made by Los Angeles, which has multiplied its population fully six times within the period referred to.

DISCOUNTING THE FUTUTEE

DISCOUNTING THE FUTURE.

DISCOUNTING THE FUTURE.

The San Francisco Real Estate Circular thus refers to the more reasonable ideas which prevail among sellers of real estate, in comparison with those which were current a few years ago:

"When a real estate sale was made six or seven years ago the seller always discounted the advance in the property for about five years ahead.

Not satisfied with getting what the property was worth then, he added to it what he supposed it would be worth in the future. This has all changed, however. Buyers now insist on paying only the values of today, and do not pay heavily on probabilities of what interest the property may pay five or ten years hence. So long as buyers follow this rule, so long will inflation be kept in check and reasonable prices prevail. If the future brings rapid advances in land, in any given neighborhood, the buyer and not the seller has the right to the benefit resulting therefrom. What the past has accomplished in the way of city progress, the seller can justly claim the benefit of, but the future belongs to the buyer, and he should see to it that inflation or the seller's greed does not deprive him of his rights in the matter."

TOWN BUILDING.

TOWN BUILDING.

TOWN BUILDING.

Under the heading "Features in Town Building," the San Francisco Chronicle recently published an interesting editorial on the growth of towns in California. After referring to the mining towns of the Sierra Nevada, and the towns of the Sierra Nevada, and the towns of the San Joaquin Valley, the writer pays the following tribute to the flourishing little cities which have sprung up during the past ten years in Southern California: "There is nothing more marvelous in the history of California town building than some features of it which are presented in the southern counties. Some of the most beautiful town creations in San Bernardino county have been developed on land that was less than twenty years ago a bleak sheep pasture. Of such is the town of Redlands, now as bustling and enterprising a place as any other of its size in the southern country, reaching out in all directions for the trade of neighboring settlements, possessing many of the features of a metropolitan community annot possess, no matter how much it may covet metropolitan community cannot pos-sess, no matter how much it may covet sess, no matter how much it may covet them.

"Perhaps there is no feature more unique in the way of town building than one which has started in an unusual way on the summit of the San Bernardino range at an elevation of 5600 feet above sea level. It started as a private clubhouse four years ago, and the building was modeled after the plan of Frank R. Stockton's "Squirrel Inn." Not a feature in the description of that odd literary creation has been omitted. "Squirrel Inn' is located in the heart of the government forest reservation in the San Bernardino range, the Arrowhead Club having acquired a preëmption there before the acquired a preëmption there before the public land now included in the reservation was withdrawn by President Harrison for national park purposes. Whether the builders of 'Squirrel Inn' intended that their clubhouse should be the nucleus of a town or not, it is so developing. Many of the members built cottages in its vi cinity, and in time it promises to be one of the most unique towns in the State, not only because of its loca-tion, but also because of the character of its buildings and the local regula-tions which forbid the destruction of any of the timber or the erection of ottages by any one, except club mem ers.

"One of the most prominent features in town building throughout the south-ern part of the State is manifested in the evident study to make them at-tractive to the eye. Adornment of buildngs and grounds, public and private s a leading feature in all of them. Individual and community effort Individual and community effort is directed in the same channel for the accomplishment of the same result. These southern towns have, therefore, developed into model show places, and as such they command the attention and admiration of visitors quite as much as do any of the natural characteristics of the country and the climate teristics of the country and the 'llmate.

"The town builders of Northern and Central California have not yet learned the secret of town building in the southern counties. They have not yet realized that there is quite as much yet realized that there is quite as much profit in making a town beautiful as there is in developing an industry or a commerce, and that these latter features need not be sacrificed in whole or in part in the development of a City Beautiful. When the lesson is learned and applied many of the northern cities that have not aspired to the position of show places will develop as such, much to their profit. The conditions for such a development are present in a very liberal degree through many parts of the State north of Tehachepi, and some conditions favorable to such a development are present here which do not exist south of the Tehachepi range. The lesson which the south is teaching is worth learning."

BUILDING.

One of the encouraging signs of the One of the encouraging signs of the local real estate market is the continued activity in building operations. This is not confined to any particular class of buildings, or to any particular section of the city. Quite a number of fine business blocks are now under way on Broadway and Spring streets, while it is almost impossible to keep track of the numerous residences that are started every week. In the section directly south of Westlake Park nearly a dozen new residences are in course of construction. The Builder and Contractor notes the following uncontracted new work:

CHEATING MADE DIFFICULT. Method of Weighing Imported Fruit

at the New York Port. So much question has been raised concerning possible irregularities in the collector's department in the allowance of rebates and tare on imported fruits that Secretary Wiggins wrote for in-formation on the subject to W. C. Pratt of New York. A reply was received yesterday in which Mr. Pratt said:
"I find that under the system in vogue here it is hardly possible that "I find that under the system in vogue here it is hardly possible that there can be any such irregularities as you suggest. The port of New York is divided into six districts, each of which is in charge of a United States weigher; under each weigher are a number of assistant weighers who are sworn officers of the government. The assistant weighers do the actual weighing and the same assistant weigher would not ordinarily handle the cargo of the same importers twice in several months. You can readily see, therefore, that such a thing as collusion between the importer and the weigher is extremely improbable. The tare is determined by the test weight of six to ten crates or boxes, as the case may be, and an average is struck which is the assumed average for the entire cargo. The chief special agent of the Treasury Department expresses his opinion that collusion is impossible under the present method. He states that if tangible information can be furnished regarding any irregularity he will at once institute a most rigid investigation.

Crops and Markets.

The unusually long spell of warm weather has at length been broken, the change being accompanied in some parts of Southern California by rain-

The outlook for Southern California farmers has never been better than it is today. It has sometimes been the case that there was a good market for citrus fruit, at another time for deciduous fruit, and yet again for grain but now there is a strong demand, at good prices, for all these products. The tariff has not only improved the market for citrus fruits, but also for almonds and other horticultural products of this section. Then again, the wool men are happy over the marked advance that has taken place in the price of that product.

The dried-fruit market is active and prices firm, many lines showing a con-siderable advance over last week Peaches are especially firm, there being a short supply of this fruit for drying, while the demand in the Eastern States is increasing.

There was a slight relapse in the wheat market, as might have been expected after the violent advance of the past few days. There is, however little doubt that the course of prices will be still higher, owing to the short-age which exists in almost every large wheat-producing country outside of the United States. Farmers who do not realize on their crop would do well to hold on for a further improve-

The local produce market has been steady during the past week. Butter has been a little weaker, while eggs and potatoes have been quite firm.

Celery. The growing of celery promises become an important branch of the farm industry of Southern California. At present there are nearly five hun dred acres of celery growing in Or ange county. S. J. Murdock, one of the best-known farmers in the peat lands of Westminster, in Orange county, gives some interesting information regarding the growing of thi profitable crop in the California Culti-vator for August. Mr. Murdock says that while the ideal celery land is limited, there is a large area of country that will grow good celery, with proper cultivation. It requires a rich, cool, moist soil, the wild celery being found along ditches or on low moist land near the coast.

seed is sown during March, April and May, as to season, or early or late planting. The early-sown seed requires longer time to get plants large enough for planting, but if planted moderately thick and well cared for, makes strong, sturdy plants.

The planting of celery takes place in about the middle of June, for the na about the middle of Julie, for the early crop. About twenty thousand plants can be set out to the acre, but 18,000 is about the average. The average price, f.o.b. in Santa Ana, is 15 cents per dozen. At this price an acre of celery would bring $270. At 250 per acre, the 500 acres in Orange county should return $125,000, of which a large amount goes for labor.

It is probable that during the next few years there will be a large increase in the production of celery in this sec-

Farmers' Institutes.

Southern California farmers should not overlook the university farmers' institutes, now being held in this section. A largely-attended institute was held at Palmdale, in the Antelope Valley, on Monday, and another one at Covina on Wednesday and Thursday. The latest was at Long Beach yesterday. Next week there will be three institutes at Montecito, Nordhoff and Santa Paula. Mr. Fowler of Fresno been appointed conductor day. Next week there will be three institutes at Montecito, Nordhoff and Santa Paula. Mr. Fowler of Fresco has been appointed conductor of the entitutes north of Tehachepi and A. J. Cook of Claremont director of those in the South. One of the good results of these institutions is the establishment of one or more borticultural culbs at each place where an institute is held. There are now about thirty of these clubs in Southern California and they are doing good work its proposed to bold a delegate meeting of all the clubs in Los Angeles before long. The Southern California farmers should remember that in these days of keen competition the only way to succeed is to mix brains with one's business.

Profits of Farmings.

In a recent article the farm editor of the San Francisco Chronicle comments on the tendency of farmers about the yard. The roosts are filthy and foul. Possibly the food is not always to succeed is to mix brains with one's business.

And to seek to combine for the purpose of getting them. As a matter of fact, his profit must come from a reduction of cost. The Chronicle says: "The farmer has no control what ever over prices, except as he can article to foot. The only element over which he exercises much control is that of cost. The only element over which he exercises much control what is that of cost. The only way in which he exercises much control which he was in the farmer of one of cost of the present. But just at this point is that of cost. The only way in which he exercises much control was the farmer of which was an expenditure of the present. But just at this point of farmers' institutes and farmers' club of the farmer of was expected to the cost of farmers' institutes a never tried it. When he tries he will be surprised. But from now on the study of Californian farmers must be to reduce cost. And to reduce cost he must study. He may find a reduction in an unexpected place. Possibly raising the wages of help may reduce cost. It has often done so. Perhaps the reverse is required. Perhaps neither need be done. But it is only by the reduction of cost that the farmer can increase the profits of farming. He cannot raise prices."

Old Olive Trees.

The interesting statement comes from San Diego that a case of olive oil, made from the trees planted at the San Diego Mission by the priests over 100 years ago, will be exhibited in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The olives grown on these trees are especially large and fine, and have attracted the attention of olive growers in other sections, who have been getting cuttings from the trees to experiment with. One of the advantages of olive culture is the fact that the trees con-tinue to bear for an almost indefinite time. There are many trees in Eu-rope, still yielding good crops, which are a thousand years or more of age.

Eastern Grapes. While California grapes are selling at comparatively low price in the local market, European grapes, such as Con-cords and Delawares, bring top prices. Concord grapes have been retailing during the past week at two pounds for 15 cents, at which figure there ought to be a very good profit in raising them. Some of these grapes are grown in Orange county, but they are not grown on a large scale in South-ern California. Should the painting of these varieties be greatly extended, it would probably be difficult to market the product at good prices, but there is certainly room for a considerably larger amount than is now raised.

More Cooperation Needed.

A Vernon fruit-grower was recently complaining that in the early part of the blackberry season he was able to obtain at the rate of 1½ cents per box for his fruit, while the cost of pick-ing was a cent a box, leaving the magnificent margin of one-fourth of a cent a box to cover cost of box, cultivating and other expenses.

This brings to the front the necessity for further cooperation on part of fruit-growers, in thickly settled districts, where there is a large produc-tion of fruit, for which it is sometimes difficult to find a profitable market in Vernon fruit-growa fresh state. The ers might easily arrange to cooperate and establish a small dryer and a fac-tory for the manufacture of jams and jellies, which would make them to a great extent independent of the middlemen, as whenever prices reached too low a figure they could turn the fruit into the factory.

In this mild climate, constant and thorough attention to cleanliness is necessary if poultry houses are to be kept free from vermin. A good ar-rangement, that has been adopted by some poultry raisers, is to have porta-ble houses, which may be moved from place to place and easily cleaned.

The Moulting Season. [W. W. Craig, in Southern Farmer:] This is the time when the greatest losses occur in the poultry yard, and the season that discourages so many. It is the time when they need your greatest care and get the least. The causes of neglect are apparent to your California Swine.

California Swine.

Charles M. Chase, president of the State Agricultural Society, writes as follows in California, the Land of Promise, just issued by the State Board of Trade:

"The raising of swine in California, up to within a few years past, was most profitable business, enormous quantities of pork being consumed by the Chinese, and the demand for cured meats makes a most merchantable article of trade,

Bacon is a staple diet throughout the makes a most merchantable article of trade.

Bacon is a staple diet throughout the length and breadth of California, and the demand far exceeds local production, the importation of hams, sides, etc., being an important item against the State in the balance of trade.

Going back a period of five years, this industry was extremely profitable, as hogs on foot command from 5 to 8 cents the year round, according to quality, season and demand; but not unlike other agricultural interests, prices have slumped from 2 to 5 cents, and at the latter figure there is good money in hogs yet.

The Berkshire seems to be the standard breed, as four out of five breeders make their selection of this class of young stock, although the Essex, Poland China, Duroc or Jersey Reds all have their peculiar followers. Inasmuch as we are importing from five to six hundred cars per year of cured meats, it is quite apparent that there is ample room for the extension of the hog industry in California at the present writing. With ample facilities to grow the most fattening food, and fields of green forage in the shape of alfalfa, roots, etc., no business offers such inviting inducements as the systematic breeding of hogs for the market uses."

While some of the dairymen of Los Angeles who sell poor milk are being criticised, it is only just that credit should be given to those who deliver a first class-article. A. T. Plath, of West Jefferson street, has received a letter from A. J. McClatchie, the bacteriologist of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the Southern California Academy of Science, in which he gives the following analysis of a sample mixed milk obtained at Mr. Plath's dairy:

Total solids Water

Mr. McClatchie writes that milk, sugar and albuminoids and the total solids are the highest of the forty-eight samples of mixed milk he had been analyzed. The milk of two of Mr. Plath's cows, not mixed, gave 5.3 milk fat, 10.11 solids, not fat, a total of 15.46 solids. Mr. Plath's cows are fine animals of the Jersey variety. He feeds them liberally, and is scrupu lously careful in regard to regularity of feeding and milking, also to clean

Filled Cheese

[Pacific Rural Press:] It seems that "filled cheese," or cheese made with skimmed milk and oleo, is still making skimmed milk and oleo, is still making trouble for American exporters of full cream cheese to English markets, although the United States law recently enacted was supposed to be adequate to insure its sale clearly on its merits. It seems, however, that the clear marking of the filled cheese has been interfered with. American filled cheese is being placed on the English market without any mark to identify it. In other cases the word "filled" is printed in hair-line type and was easily in hair-line type and was easily smeared by the greasy hands of the packer or otherwise rendered unreadin hair-line in hair-line type and was easily smeared by the greasy hands of the packer or otherwise rendered unreadable. It was represented to one of the revenue officers that cheese of a certain size could not be conveniently marked in bold type, and he assumed the authority to interpret the law as giving him discretion to permit the use of hair-line letters, provided they were of the prescribed height. The deputy commmissioner contended that the law was being forced, but Secretary Wilson and some Congressmen hold that the ruling renders the law of no effect, and they propose to ask a Congressional investigation of the right of the officials of the bureau to interpret the law in such a way as to permit its violation.

It is stated that seven factories have been licensed by the government to make filled cheese, and they are all located in the State of Illinois. The great significance of the whole filled-cheese business is that since filled-cheese business is that since filled-cheese has been largely exported the market for American cheese of all kinds has decreased fully 50 per cent. In Great Britain alone, Before them our factories furnished two-thirds of the cheese imported from North America, Canada furnishing one-third. Now the figures are reversed; Canada furnishes two-thirds and the United States only one-third. According to importers of American cheese the trouble lies in the sale of an inferior article for the genuine.

Farmers needn't be at all anxiou in regard to the slump in the price of wheat, which followed the rapid rise of a few days ago. It was quite nat-ural that such a temporary decline should result from the rush of big holders to realize on their venture, There is every indication that the course of wheat will be still upward and or ward for some time to come.

Was Discharged or Resigned the Day Before His Suicide-Black-man's Friends Promise Sensational Developments Later On.

The rumor that the late Capt. M. G. Bolton was short in his accounts with the Electric Light Company is absolutely without foundation. This statement is made upon the authority of President Cline of the company, which employed Bolton and also upon which employed Bolton and also upon the authority of Secretary and Treas-urer Burns. Capt. Bolton handled lit-tle or no cash, and what little money did pass through his hands was ac-counted for each night. Louis Vetter, the Los Angeles representative of the Pacific Surety Company that was Capt. Bolton's bondsman for $3000, has also received the same assurances from Capt. Bolton's bondsman for source, has laso received the same assurances from the Electric Light Company.

"Bolton was in no way concerned with Blackman's defalcation," said President, Cline yesterday. "He was not short in his cash, and so far as we know his books are as straight as they ought to be."

"Mr. Cline," said the reporter, "is it true that you and Capt. Bolton had an interview regarding his books the night before the day of the suicide, and that you quarreled?"

"Yes, and no," said President Cline. "I sent for Capt. Bolton and asked him about certain trivial matters that were errors in book-keeping. I suppose. He said he could not explain the entries, having forgotten all about them, and that ended the matter. He went out, We had no quarrel."

President Cline did not tell the whole and that ended the matter. He were out. We had no quarrel." President Cline did not tell the whole story, however. Capt. Bolton on the night in question, the night before his story, however. Capt. Bolton on the night in question, the night before his suicide, severed connection with the Los Angeles Lighting Company, and he so stated to not one but several of the few intimate friends he had in this city. The captain said he could and would not endure the manner of procedure President Cline had seen fit to adopt toward his employes since the Blackman defalcation was discovered, and added that he would not submit to being questioned as he had been. Whether Capt. Bolton was discharged or resigned his position with the company is not known, but from what he told his friends he probably quit of his own accord. Certain it is that, whether discharged or not, Capt. Bolton believed himself no longer in the employ of the Electric Light Company, after his interview with President Cline, and this fact preyed upon his mind. This is shown, outside of his statements to that effect, by the fact that the captain closed his books for the day almost immediately after the interview with the president and, turning over his cash to Secretary Burns fully two hours earlier than usual, went up town at 4 in the afternoon, a most unusual proceeding for so methodical a man as he ordinarily was.

Bolton was a gentleman, born and noon, a most unusual proceeding for so methodical a man as he ordinarily was.

Bolton was a gentleman, born and bred, and was keenly sensitive. He rebelled against the manner in which he was called to account for a trivial error, and used some very plain language in expressing his resentment.

Blackman's friends, while exonerating Capt. Bolton in every way from complicity in or knowledge of the crimes of the ex-secretary and treasurer, say that his suicide merely opened up a little wider the gap through which more than one sensation may crop out. While admitting Blackman's wrong-doing in a monetary way, these friends insist that morally he is quite as white a pebble as some of the larger rocks on the Electric Light Company's gravel train. It is intimated that when Blackman comes to trial he will submit to an examination which will bring forth many hidden facts concerning his connection with the company. In that he took money belonging to his employers, Blackman will probably admit his wrong-doing, but when the question of his spending his money upon a woman other than his wife is raised, he will plead that he was not violating the rules of the office.

BICYCLE BURGLARS.

Miss Melendez Discharged-Filkins

The preliminary examination of C. W. Filkins, Jasper Briden and Frencesca Melendez for the burglary of W. W. Watt's Figueroa street cyclery, was concluded yesterday in Justice Morrison's court. Miss Melendez was discharged, but decision in the cases of Filkins and Briden was reserved pending the examination of the defendants on two other charges. The The Melendez woman was the mistress of Filkins, and helped to ride the stolen wheels, it is alleged, but there was no evidence to show that she participated in the burglary. It is reasonably cer-tain that Filkins and Briden will be held on all three charges.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES. Los Angeles, Aug. 26, 1897. GAMBLING IN WHEAT. The re narkable and ripid rise in the value of wheat has naturally led to much specubout at the time when those on the in about at the time when those on the in-side are preparing toletyo. It is quite possible that there will be further ad-vances in the price of wheat, but it is not likely that they will be so heavy or so rapid as those of the past few weeks. In any case, those who buy wheat at the present figures, and wish to sleen easily at night, should buy wheat at the present figures, and wish of sleep easily at night, should buy as much as they can afford to pay for outright. Buying wheat on a margin is just as much of a gambling operation as the buying of mining stocks for an advance. A few shrewd operators win at the game, but the general public loses, in the long run, ninety-nine times out of a hundred.

COMMERCIAL. THEY SHOULD ADVERTISE. Commenting upon the movement to encourage the consumption of home products, some of the retail grocers of Los Angeles deny that there is any disposition on the part of retailers to push the sale of imported goods to the disvantage of home manufactureres. They say that they have to handle what they can sell. It is not a matter of sentiment with them, but strictly of business. They point out the fact that eastern factories build up a demand among the public for their goods by careful, extensive and systematic advertising in the local papers, and they suggest that if our local factories would do the same there would be failess trouble in increasing the consumption of the goods. some of the retail grocers of Los An-

THE WINE SITUATION. There has, so far, been no change in the situation between the Wine Makers' Corporation and the Wine Dealers' Association. The wine dealers claim that they do not purchase any more wine just now, having enough for their needs. On the other hand the wine makers say that they will have to protect themselves and the growers. That is to say, they will be forced to sell the wines which they make whenever they can find a market for them. THE WINE SITUATION. Ther

CALIFORNIA CRACKERS. It is not only in Los Angeles and Portland that cracker manufacturers complain of too much competition in their business. According to the Commercial Bulletin of San Francisco, the San Francisco cracker makers are very much discouraged at the lack of patronage which they receive from the public. The Bulletin says:

"There is in this city a very large amount of capital invested in cracker bakerles, the output of which is fully up to the standard if not superior to that of the manufactories of similar establishments anywhere in the coun-

establishments anywhere in the coun-try. Aside from the cost of the plants, these companies spend very large amounts of money annually in this city for labor and supplies of various kinds. The flour used is all the product of California grown grain, while the sugar, The flour used is all the product of California grown grain, while the sugar, ruit, and in fact, everything used in the manufacture of cakes and crackers is of local production. Very large sums of money are also spent among the manufacturers of boxes, both wooden and tin, printers and various other directions while the factories themselves furnish employment directly to at least one thousand persons, one of them alone employing between three hundred and four hundred. In view of all these facts, it is only fair that, being home industries in every sense of the word, the proprietors of our California cracker bakeries should receive the patronage of our people, among whom they spend their money and who are to a great extent, benefited by the presence of such industries in their midst. It is, nevertheless, a fact that our local factories are at present obliged to contend with what is certainly an unjust competition, and are obliged to cut prices in order to successfully compete with the output of Oregon, as well as eastern manufacturers, large surplus stocks of which are being dumped on this market continually. This is not just; our people of all classes must know that if we would succeed we must patronize at all times, when possible, our home manufacturers. It very rarely occurs that any foreign manufactured

MILLIONS OF CIGARETTES. An exchange gathers from the report of the American Tobacco Company for the single year 1896, that the total out-put of cigarettes of that gigantic trust for that period was 4,150,000,000. Then, by a simple arithmetical calculation, for that period was 4,150,000,000. Then, by a simple arithmetical calculation, it finds that these cigarettes put end to end, or in line, would reach 180,121 miles, or seven times around the earth, with several thousand miles over, nearly enough to reach across the Atlantic ocean, or from New York to Livernool. to Liverpool.

The profits of the trust in one year from this business are given at the immense sum of $6,180,000. This money might certainly be better expended. It is not pleasant to contemplate the amount of harm that is done by this amount of harm that is done by this industry among boys and young men of mature age. Should the consumption of cigarettes in America continue to increase, the physique of the coming generation will undoubtedly show a marked deterioration. It is a subject which demands the attention of sociologists, quite as much as the liquor question.

Shares and Money.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The striking fact about today's stock market was the absence of any large offerings to sell. A sharp rise of prices at the opening of the market was on a very moderate volume of purchases. The buying demand fell off almost immediately, but prices receded very slightly and heid firmly in the face of an almost stagnant demand. The big buyers were practically out of the market, and even the small demand showed few stocks forthcoming, so that prices moved easily in ether direction. Even with the condition so inviting to manipulation, the market was apparently neglected by all interests, and many stocks which have been active in the recent trading did not move at all during the entire day. The total sales, 220,000 shares, is the low record for several months past. Much more animation was manifested in the bond market, and prices there were strong, exercising a sustaining influence on stocks. The quietness which has fallen upon the stock market is due to a somewhat unsettled conviction as to the safety and final dimensions of the corn crop. The mercurial condition of the grain markets has aroused a condition of doubt in the minds of stock traders, and they are waiting for more fixed conditions before putting further money on a large scale into stocks. The strength of individual stocks helped to sustain the market, which was in that respect almost a repetition of yesterday's. The buying at the close, which was most prominent in the Grangers, carried the market to the highest level of the day. The sales for the day for London account were estimated at 15,000 shares. Net gains of a sharp fraction were all through the list to the close. The railroad bond market was active, speculative issues at higher prices. Government bonds sold a fraction higher. The fotal sales of bonds were $2,212,000.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The Evening Post's.
London financial cablegram says: "The markets opened generally dull today, but closed strong on rumors that the powers will come to an agreement on the eastern question. Consols closed at 112½ buyers. Kaffirs were firm at the close. Americans were good all day, but the close was a fraction under the best. More interest in Americans is notable among operators on this side. New York Central and Norfolks were especially bought today. Eries were also strong. There was a further rise in Brazilians on the continued improvement in exchange. Press reports attribute the improvement to Rothschilds having bought the Central Brazilian Railway from the government for £5,000,000. This is not correct. The position is that a strong continental and English syndicate, including Rothschild, has been formed to make a tender for the railway next month. The London discount market was firm on the transfer today of £1,300,000 to the Japanese account in the Bank of England. It is believed, however, that some of this may shortly be released. The Paris bourse opened quiet, but closed buoyant on the eastern rumors. The Berlin market was firm. It is still buying Canadian Pacific.

CHICAGO, Aug. 426.—Today, for the first time since the present bull campaign in wheat was started, the price of September wheat sold above the dollar mark in Chicago. Ten minutes after the opening 1.03½ was offered, an advance over yesterday's closing price of %2.c. Even at that tempting figure the bull clique refused to let go of their holdings. Enough wheat came on the market to break the price to 98% by the time the closing bell sounded, but the brokers who are engineering the deal stoutly denied that it came from them. There was, perhaps, a shade of maliciousness in the way they forced shorts to bid up. It was currently reported on Monday.

sounded, but the brokers who are engineering the deal stoutly denied that it came from them. There was, perhaps, a shade of mainciousness in the way they forced shorts to bid up. It was currently reported on Monday, when prices broke so sharply, that the pool was forced to put up $400,000 in margins. They certainly had their revenge today. The rise was plainly due to the clique, which is now swelled, by rumor, to include Joseph Leiter, George R. French, Allen, Gler & Co. and James Kenne of Wall street. The only leader, George R. French, who appeared distinctly above the surface, makes no secret that he has a line of 5,000,000 bushels of September wheat. There is no hunch more than 1,100,000 bushels and thicago, with hanse of cash wheat sold for export. The is the situation as it now plays into the hands of the bull combine. The sudden rise of September was not reflected in any other large market in the country, with the exception of Minneapolis, where September bounded from 92 to 1.00. St. Louis advanced 2e at one time, but relapsed to opening prices for December. Although statistics were not given much attention, one item of foreign news had a distinct influence. The foreign postato-crop shortage is estimated at the enormous total of 1.000,000,000 bushels, which is expected to increase the demand for American wheat. Its influence was especially felt in December wheat, which is not supposed to be under the thumb of any clique. Corn and provisions were both affected by the excitement in wheat. In corn the trading was enormous, and, although an advance of but 1½@11/2c was recorded, the feeling was very strong at the close. Closing prices for provisions were from 15 to 26e higher than yesterday.

Wheat at New York.

Wheat at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The speculative at traction in grain circles today was the foreign market. The ring was surrounded from star to finish by a large crowd of brokers, most o whom were buils, and had buying order, which ran the total day's business up to 88, 600 bushels. A tip had been given out the corn was good for a big rise in the next few weeks, and the investment buying on this and other influences was a feature of the day Many of the biggest operators are now it corn. Word came from Chicago that the ring there would not hold the crowd of trader who were trying to execute orders. The country is interested in the predicted boom and bought freely today. When wheat sold off the afternoon, corn broke loose from it the green its own hook. Crop news is unmisting the rear and had a fittle bulg con its own hook. Crop news is unmist near a ne who were trying to execute orders. The country is interested in the predicted boom and bought freely today. When wheat sold off in the afternoon, corn broke loose from its higher-priced companion and had a fittle bulg eon its own hook. Crop news is unmistakably gloomy. The frost season is near at hand, and from all accounts the grain is so far behind its average growth at this time of the year that even with the most favorable weather from now on it will enter the danger period at a disadvantage. The day's news was exceptionally bullish. Nebraska and Kanasa complained of drought. Iowa has suffered from cool weather, and wired that frost earlier than September 10 would do immensed damage. HOLD KHYBER PASS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
PESHAWUR, Aug. 26.—Fort Lundi Kotal, situated at the extreme end of Khyber Pass and garrisoned by 300 men of the Khyber
Riffes, was attacked and burned by Afridis Tuesday. The famous Khyber Pass, leading from Afghanistan into India, has now fallen completely into the hands of the insurgents.
The Afridis attacked Lundi Kotal on Tuesday. The garrison held its own until 10 day. The garrison held its own until 10 The Afridis attacked Lundi Kotal on Tuesday. The garrison held its own until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when after sharp fighting, in which the native commander of the garrison was killed while gailantly leading his men, the enemy gained an entrance. The fight was continued for two hours inside the fortification by the Khyber Rifles in the towers at the angles of the fort, which were strongly built of stone. The Afridis lost heavily before they finally captured the place. They took a quantity of supplies and then burned the structure. The fact that no news has been received of the fact of the garrison leads to the belief the fact that they succeeded in making terms before they surrendered. The news is confirmed here that the Orakhis have risen and cut telegraphic communication with all garrisons and posts of Kurram Valley.

Four more jurors, making eight in all, were accepted yesterday in the Leuetgert murder case at Chicago. It is believed that the jury will be completed this week. The first act of the jury will probably be to visit the cellar of Leuetgert's sausage factory, where it is claimed he disposed of his wife's corpse in one of the vats.

A Pittaburgh dispatch says fire last evening in the five-story building at No. 637 Smithfield street, occupied by Edmundson & Ferine, furniture dealers, destroyed the building and its contents, entailing a loss of $165,000, and precipitated a panic among the 150 guests in the Seventh Avenue Hotel, adjoining in the rear. No one was hurt.

A Constastinople cablegram says Lord Salisbury has made fresh and important proposals in the matter of the settlement of the indemnity due Turkey from Greece. He suggests that Great Britain, France and Russia jointly guarantee the indemnity from an adcontrol the revenues set apart for the purpose of meeting this obligation. He invites the other powers to participate in the guarantee, if they chose to do so.

A London cablegram says it is a curious circumstance that yesterday Mexican dollars were quoted at 24d, a premium of id over silver. This, it is reported, is due to rumors that India will increase the import duty on silver, rumors which have also caused a falling-off in Indian purchases of the metal. At Bombay and Calcutta, the merchants in some cases are refusing to purchase without a guarantee against the raising of the duty.
Little credence, however, is given to such

The time of the Supreme Council of Foresters of America yesterday was taken up with reports of committees. The membership and finances of the order were shown to be in very satisfactory condition. The consideration of the report of the Committee on Laws occupied the greater part of the day, and was not finished when the council adjourned. Among other things it was decided to hold open ballots in all courts of the order. The delegates and their friends were entertained at Elitch's Gardens last evening.

Griffen Divorce Case-A Youthful Lawyer-Y.M.C.A. Bicycle Races.

and the Y.M.C.A. is slightly out of pocket,

TOO BRIGHT BY HALF.

Fred Wilson, the sixteen-year-old boy who was accused of stealing grain sacks, was arraigned before Recorder Rossiter this afternoon, pleaded guilty and was taken to the County Jail until Monday, in order to give the court officers time to look up some of his statements, and, if possible, give him a chacto reform. So gilb is the youth with its tongue, and so great his ability with the case, the justice informed his builty with the case, the justice informed his hat he was by long odds the brightest boy he had ever seen.
The boy his aim of he was let off with a monday would then adopt him.
The coung culprit settled the case to his own satisfaction by telling Judge Rossiter that it was only a case of petty larceny anyway, and to fine him 55 and he would pay it.
"Well, make it ten then," he said, when the judge said he did not want to fine him if he could be assured of his getting a home with somebody to look after him. "Make it ten and I will go out and borrow the money. I have not got any friends here, but I can get the money just the same. Say, judge, you won't send me back to Whittier, will you?
The boys are too rough there. I would much prefer to pay a fine."
When he was remanded to the County Jail, and not till then, did he break down, and then he saked to be allowed to stay in the Pasadena lockup, as he said: "I told those fellows down to the fail when I got out that they would never see me again, and now what will they think."

DIVORCE CASE DEPOSITIONS. Judge Rossiter was busy all the forenoon king depositions in the divorce case of Jacob Griffin vs. Minnie P. Griffin. Both parties H. Griffin vs. Minnie P. Griffin. Both parties reside in Sait Lake City, and Mr. Griffin charges his wife wit intemperance. She was a guest of Hotel Green in this city during the winters of 1892, 1894, 1895 and 1896, and went into the best society here, where she was a general favorite. In his complaint the husband states that, on account of her confirmed habit of intemperance, Mrs. Griffin is not aft person to have charge of their child, and asks the court to award its custody to him. The case will be heard in Sait Lake City next Monday, and, aside from numerous depositions, mostly very favorable to Mrs. Griffin, Dr. Collins of this city will go to Sait Lake City to testify in her behalf.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION. of the most unique entertainments of ason was held this evening at the resi-the table, such as Beethoven, Liszt, Hayden, etc.

A bell was rung, and the occupants of this first table moved to the second table, where sixteen representatives of musical matters, or phrases, were hung on the wall, such as three dolls representing triplets, a bunch of twine to represent a chord, etc.

At the third table the names of sixteen celebrated musical people were represented by the letters in their names being mixed up.

The fourth table consisted of sketches by Miss Smith, who siso painted the souvenir cards, representative of familiar songs, as for instance a bell surrounded by a wreath of daisies, typified "Daisy Bell," etc. As each representation bore a number, the laddes were obliged to place their guesses against the number.

Out of the fifty-four selections Miss Orton guessed fifty correctly, and received first prize, a cast of Hayden, and Miss O'Donohue of Los Angeles, who guessed forty-seven correctly, was awarded second prize.

Miss Coleman played an etude from Liszt, Miss Colonohue played a Chopin valse in Eminor, and Miss Clapp and Miss Jones each sang a solo. Dainty refreshments were served.

BOY INJURED BY BICYCLE.

Harry Hess, a young man who delivers papers in his city, was arrested on a warrant after covering his route tonight by Officer Bustal. The warrant was issued by Judge Rossiter on complaint of William C. Austin, who alleges that Hess was riding on the sidewalk on Wednesday atternoon and knocked down and badly bruised his seven-year-old son, Raymond. Hess, it is alleged, though he knew his pedal caught in the little fellow's clothing and dragged in a short distance, continued on his way and did not stop to see how badly the child was injured. He was taken before Recorder Rossiter late this afternoon and pleaded guilty to riding on the sidewalk, Sentence was deferred till Saturday.

ONE WEARY OF LIFE TRIES DEATH WHILE IN JAIL.

New Wood Road from the Moun tains—New Santa Fe Line to Virginia Dale—Justice Court Held on Sunday—Walked to Death.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 26. — [Regular Correspondence.] One minute more of delay and death would have crowned her efforts, was the verdict of the physician cailed in to bring back to life and sense the apparently lifeless body of "Big Dora," a cook at the house of Fannie Ewing in the tenderlion precinct. Dora is largo, but she is no match for Fannie when in her cups, and Wednesday afternoon when the irate Fannie came in and found her cook with considerable of a jag on and attempted to chastise her for it, the later escaped to the brush and hid away. From a passer-by she secured a bottle of wine, resulting in her becoming so noisy that the police ran her in. During the evening the night watchman of the Courthouse, Jere Ousterhout, heard cails for help from the City Jail, which is in the basement, and going down found that Dora had torn up the bedclothes, and, with one end tied tight around her neck and the other attached to her cell grating, was down on her kness, slowly strangling to death. He had no key to the cell and sent for Policeman Prindiville, who came in haste and cut the woman down just in time to save her life. She remained delirious during the night. A guard was placed over her, as she tried to beat her brains out on the cell floor several times, but under the influence of opiates she was put to sleep near morning. She was formerly cook at the County Hospital, and has to support a husband far advanced in consumption.

WOULD GET WOOD.

The main bone of contention between the settlers up the Waterman Cañon and the management of the Arrowhead toil road has been the hauling of wood. The latter wish to discourage it, as the trees are much more picturesque and beautiful when standing than when turned into wood. The Vale Bros. have commenced suit against the company on this point, as they are allowed to bring an empty wagon through the gate free of toil, but must pay full rates if there is a load of wood on board. There is new a plan to circumvent the company by building another road into the cañon that will cut the toil road above the gate, over which the Vale Bros. and Messrs. Benson and Hall, adjoining neighbors, can have free exit at all times. It is computed that the new road will cost but $100 to build.

Having a branch of its line well under way, to be completed by November, from Kramer to Randsburg, the Santa Fé will now look to extending its lines in other directions. A rate has been made for direct communication between this city and Dale City, by rail to Amboy and by stage from that point to Dale City, over an excellent road with easy grade. This route will be opened September 1, with the other contemplated changes on that date. This is but the prelude to another iron spur to be built between Amboy and Dale City as soon as the Kramer and Randsburg branch is completed. Virginia Dale will be the center of mining attraction during the coming winter, and this move will aid both the country and the railroad. Another extension will be the old, crippled, nearly deceased Nevada Southern, which will soon be taken in hand, and not only put in good shape, but will be run still further up into valuable territory.

Sixteen musically-inclined ladies were invited to be present at the reception, and as each entered the room a hand-painted cand was presented to them and each assigned to a seat at once of four tables.

On the card were sixteen numbers on each of the four pages, and at the first table the ladies were told to write on their cards as many names of the sixteen portraits of mujail. The prisoner chose, through necessity, the latter, and was lodged in the County Jail the next day. Having secured a lawyer, he applied for a habeas corpus and his freedom on the grounds that Sunday is a non-judicial day, and no conviction will stand if imposed on a legal holiday. The case was brought up before Judge Oster Thursday afternoon, and he discharged the prisoner on the grounds claimed.

The unknown found dead on the desert near Hinkley last Saturday proves to be a young man from Colton, son of L. E. Pake, who had been at work for John Tomleich at Randsburg, sending his money home each week to his mothat. When he lost his job he tried to walk home, rather than take the money to pay his fare. He succeeded as far as Kramer and had reached Hinkley when the terrible heat of that week overcame him and he died by the side of the railroad track. L. W. George and S. T. As this city uses 162 gallons of water perapita cach day, and the average allowance for cities of this size is thirty-five to forty-five gallons per capita, it is thought that economy should break loose in some direction. The rich estate of Tomas A. Yorba, who died in February of last year, has again been made the subject of litigation through a petition praying for the dismissal of Felipe Yorba as administrator. The petition is made by Theodosio Yorba, a brother of the decased, and alleges that the administrator at the time of his appointmen, was indebted to the deceased in the amount of $6000; that the administrator has kept no accounts or vouchers for moneys received or claims paid; and that he is incompetent to manage the estate. Superior Judge Ballard has issued an order citing Felipe Yorba to appear in court and show cause why letters of administration issued to him should not be revoked. Last month the same case was prosecuted before Jüdge Clark at Los Angeles, and it was found that Felipe Yorba had been guilty of gross negligence in the management of the estate, and had made false returns of his receipts as guardian. Judge Clark decreed that for his services Felipe Yorba be allowed no compensation on account or the mismanagement which was shown.

Another Runaway Makes Things

Lively in the Streets.

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] Irvin Melton of this place died at his father's residence in North Redondo last evening. His death resulted from internal injuries inflicted by the kick of a horse several weeks ago.

Notwithstanding the request from the City Council that horses should not be left united in the streets, another runaway occurred this morning. The team belonging to William Usrey, the Ice and Cold Storage man, was frightened by a Redondo Railway engine blowing off steam, and ran along the Santa Fé tracks as far as the depot. There the frightened horses were turned into the street, and although the street was crowded with teams, John Rosche and Wallace Maxey jumped into the wagon, and with great difficulty stopped them before any damage was done. Smith of Glendora, read a paper on "Lemon Culture."
At this morning's session the question box developed a number of interesting problems. William Fuller of Colton answered a question in regard to pomelos, giving his verdict in favor of the Fiorida seedling. Street trees led to lively discussion. The question of proper cultivation of the soil developed the old division between those who believe in packing the soil after cultivation and those who believe in leaving the soil mellow. The opinion seemed to prevail that loose and light soil should be packed, while heavy soil should be left loose. Prof. Cook said he had investigated many orchards after fumigation and spraying and he had yet to find the first orchard after treatment, on which he could not find live scale. convene in Fomona Friday and continue all next week.

orange trees was discussed by A. J. Wilkins and C. E. Bemis, both of Covina. Mr. Wilkins presented many interesting facts from the history of the orange, but conceded that he had no data to determine the age of maturity, although he believed it was something like fitteen years for budded fruit, and twenty-five years for seedling trees. Mr. Bemis said that the naval orange tree is a heavy consumer of fruit elements and is at the same time the best machine known for producing luscious fruit. He believed that, properly fed, the naval orange could be prolonged to many times what is usually considered the age of maturity of trees, but the lack of experience with budded trees leaves no basis for definite estimates. Use of improper fertilizer will shorten the lives of trees until our children's children will be able to harvest profitable crops from the trees now growing.

J. W. Jeffrey and others discussed the question of the influence of fertilization and interference with the roots, when transplanted, on the longevity of citrus trees. Dr. Needham told of the old Wolfskill orchard in Los Angeles, which, when he saw it four-teen years gao, was nearly forty years old, and was then bearing heavily.

J. O. Osborn read a paper on "intellectual and Social Culture on the Farm." He believed that as great intelligence and knowledge is 'requisite for proper farming as for any other pursuit.

lieved that as great intelligence and knowledge is requisite for proper farming as for any other pursuit.

Prof. Wickson spoke briefly on the subject of pruning decidious fruit trees. He said he had seen peach trees so proped that they looked like banyan trees. There is no use in growing trees that will fall all to pieces. There is no reason why they should be trimmed "cow high," but on the contrary there is every reason why the trees should be allowed to branch low down.

Among other papers during the afternoon session, S. W. Funk read a dissertation on small fruit. A paper by John McTier of Montectio was read by Prof. Wickson, the article treating the subject of fertilization from a chemical point of view.

Miss Elizabeth Hay of Covina closed the afternoon session with a paper on "Woman's Part in the Life on the Ranch."

The institution will close its work this evening, when Prof. Cook will speak of scale insects. S. J. Murdock of Westminster will read a paper on "Three Neglected Vegetables," and Prof. Wickson will speak on "Experimental Stations and Their Work."

The deep interest manifested throughout the sessions of the institute and the general participation in the subjects raised for discussion shows that the institute idea is growing constantly in popularity.

A party composed of Jack Wooley, Fred Kellogs, William Bloesser, Harry McManus and guide, rode to Eagle Camp on Tuesday, where they spent the night, returning yesterday, They shot a number of doves, which they say are plentful, and bagged two goats. Capt. Jack, the life-saver and swimming teacher, distinguished himself yesterday morning by his prompt answer to a call for help from A. S. Healy, who had gotten beyond his depth. Mr. Healy, depending upon the provess of his friend, John Knoll of Los Angeless, attempted to swim out to sea. Mr. Knoll was unable to sustain Healy, and both were son struggling in sixteen feet of water. Lusty calls for help brought Capt. Jack, who held both the men up until a boat could reach them, when they were rowed ashere, much the worse for fright, but not otherwise damaged.

A part of five Los Angeles and Pasadena gentlemen, among whom were A. B. Williams, Holsey Prescott and L. M. Norgon went for a sail yesterday, and landed over six hundred pounds of fish. Yellowtail, Darracuda, has and albicore predominated.

The quartette of San Pedro boys who were arrested for disturbing the peace, were acquitted yesterday. They owned to having blown a horn in saluting passing vessels in the bax but disclaimed any malicious intent. Upon motion of the prosecuting attorney, the Justice of the Peace instructed the jury to acquit, and the verdict was returned in accordance.

W. H. Savage of San Pedro spent yesterday and today at the Metropole. He returned tonight.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] The trial of Ellis R. Gerson, charged with assault and attempt to commit burglary, was called in Judge Noyes's courtroom at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. 'A special venire of fifty jurymen had been summoned, and after every man had answered to the roll-call, Dist.-Atty. Gill, who conducted the prosecution, read the following letter from the complaining witness:

"RIVERSIDE (Cal.,) Aug. 1897.

"L. Gill, Esq., District-Attorney Riverside county—Dear Sir: After thinking over the matter of my case, I am convinced that the evidence in regard to the case is such that a conviction can in all probability not be had, and-that-in taking a stranger to my home and in what occurred there that night, I might have been, and probably was, as much to blame as Gerson. I, therefore, think that it would be for the best interests of all concerned if you could see your way clear to dismiss the case. I would request, therefore, if you will pardon me, that the case be dismissed. "ALBERT YOUNKIN."

Mr. Gill then moved that the case be dismissed. The judge granted the motion, the

A Peaceful Mind A Healthy Body!

> Good Digestion! Refreshing Sleep! Full of Ambition!

The man who gets the most pleasure out of life is the healthy man, the man whose nerves are strong and free from the drains of past excesses or business worry. Where these drains exist a cure is yet possible, and good health can be restored by filling the body with a mild current of Electricity from Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt.

It restores nerve force and checks all waste of strength in 80 days. Its electric current gives life to weak nerves. Read the book, "Three Classes of Men," sent sealed, without marks, free on application.

VICTORIA HOME.

Results of the Work of the Diamond

Jubilee Committee.
The Victoria Children's Home will be the name of the receiving house of the Children's Home Society from now on. The Jubilee Committee met for last time Wednesday evening, and is now a thing of the past.

The treasurer of the Victoria Dia-mond Jubilee Committee on Tuesday handed the treasurer of the Southern California Children's Home Society check for $700, being a part payment of the funds raised by the exertions of the Jubilee Committee, which will within the next few days turn over additional subscriptions and cash which will raise the total of the Jubilee Fund to over $1000.

Fund to over $1000.

The hard times had quite an effect in preventing the amount from being larger, but the British societies have taken the home under their wing, and will from time to time give entertainments for the benefit of its fund.

The home authorities express themselves highly pleased with the result of the jubliee, and will place a suitable tablet in the building to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee.

The donors of $25 have been made life members of the board, and those who gave $5 will be members for one year from date.

The amount collected in smaller sums will be used to place six or eight representative British-born citizens on the board to look after the interests of the now defunct Jubilee Committee. The affairs now being at an end the persons who were on the committee wish the public to understand that the British Vice-Consul is now, as before, the sole representative of the British population of this vicinity, and that no further attempts will be made to raise funds for the home from the general public in the name of the Jubilee Committee, and no individuals have the right to represent themselves as working in that direction, except the chairman and secretary, who were instructed by the committee to make further attempts to obtain life members.

Climate and Crops.

Extremely warm weather prevailed the latter part of the week, accommanied by occasional thunderstorms in the mountain regions and some sandstorms in the valley sections at the beginning of the heated period. The temperature in all sections was greatly in excess of the average, ranging from the nineties in the coast sections to 100 and 110 deg. in the interior valleys. Fruits ripened rapidly under the influence of the warm dry air, which enabled fruit drying to proceed with great dispatch. The very warm weather was hard on beans, and should it continue will cause considerable inweather was hard on beans, and should it continue will cause considerable injury; there was some blistering of fruit, which in some sections the heat caused to shrink and drop somewhat; the hot weather was unfavorable to crops not under irrigation. Beans are being threshed. The crop at present shows about an average yield; hay and barley are good average crops of superior quality; grain threshing and shipping continues. Peaches are abundant; prunes and Bartlett pears are light crop, prunes in some sections being a failure. Walnuts are maturing fuely; the raisin-making season opens in about a week. Oranges are increasing in size and the trees are very full.
